Valuable Information.

BOSTON, Dec 12, 1869.

Gentlemen: My only object in giving you this testimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit, until I commenced taking the VEGETINE; and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man; and my skin is smooth, and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of VEGETINE. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of this acute complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.

C. H. TUCKER, Pas. Ag't Mich. C. R. R.
69 Washington street, Boston.

Every One Speaks Favorably.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 31, 1870.

MR. STEVENS: Dear Sir: I have been troubled with Canker from childhood, causing my mouth to be sore at times, so that I was unable to eat. Have taken many preparations, but with no effect until I tried your VEGETINE. After taking a few doses, I found it relieved the faintness at the stomach that always accompanies Canker humor; and by the time I had taken the third bottle my mouth was entirely cured. Have not been troubled with it since that time, which is eight months ago. I have recommended it to several of my acquaintances; and every one speaks favorably of its good effect.

Yours truly P. S. SHERMAN.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, May 1, 1871.

DEAR SIR: This is to certify that I have sold at retail, sixty-three dozen (756 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended, that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am personally cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours, H. GILMAN,
To H. R. STEVENS, Esq. 468 Broadway.

FURTHER PROOF.

SPRINGFIELD, Me., May 4, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: My daughter has been out of health for about two years. About a year ago she had a tumor come on her side, which was very painful. I saw VEGETINE advertised in the Farmer, and sent to Bangor and got two bottles. She is now taking the second bottle; her health is much improved, and the tumor is going away as fast as it came. Every one in this vicinity knows what VEGETINE has done for my daughter, and I take every opportunity to recommend it to those who are not aware of its great value. Very respectfully,

MRS. SUSAN C. RANDALL.

"TELL IT ALL"

By MRS. T. B. H. Stenhouse, for 25 years wife of a Mormon High Priest. With an introduction by HARRIET BEECHER STOWE. Two years ago the author wrote a pamphlet on Polygamy which excited the Mormon newspapers to anger, ingly invite her to write a book and "Tell It All." Eminent men and women urged her to accept the challenge, and 'Tell It All' is the result. It is the only book on this subject ever written by a real Mormon woman. 625 pp. superbly illustrated and bound. It outsells all other books three to one. It takes like wildfire. 100,000 will be sold. Agents, now is your opportunity. Our descriptive pamphlet, terms, &c., sent free to all. Address A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Conn. May 27w4

A Midnight Surprise.

Says the Louisville Journal: In the family of Mr. Jacob Leszinsky, living at No. 308 Market street, near Shelby, there is a daughter, Miss Pauline, about fifteen years of age, prominent among whose other personal attractions is an unusually fine suit of hair. In fact, its great beauty was the occasion of common remark among the people of the neighborhood with whom she was acquainted. It was long, reaching below the waist, of a rich, dark brown color, abundant and very heavy. Being yet a school-girl, and frequently passing through the streets, this growth of hair did not escape the notice of parties, who determined to possess it. Miss Pauline was accustomed to wear the hair in two long braids, and it was so arranged when she, with a younger sister, retired Monday night. The two slept in the rear room of the second story, in which was a window looking out on the back yard. Below the window was the roof of the kitchen, so that approach from the ground was comparatively easy. The night being warm and very pleasant, the sash was raised, although the door, leading into the hall, was locked. At some time during the night, the exact hour she does not know, she suddenly awoke with a feeling of oppressiveness and semi-consciousness that something was wrong. Hastily arising and going to the window, she looked out into the yard; but could discern nothing. Then, after getting into bed again, she heard faint whisperings below, and once more arose and tried the door. This she found locked as she had left it on retiring. It was at this juncture that she first discovered that the braid on the right side of the head had been entirely severed and stolen. So terrified did she become at learning her loss that she was utterly unable to speak for a time, and remained quiet until morning, when she hurried to her parents' room and told them of the occurrence. An examination of the premises was at once instituted, but no trace of the villains were found. The braid taken is of such a texture and of such length as is valued at a very high price among hair dealers, and will of course realize a large sum if a disposition of it can be made.

Patient Continuance in Well-Doing.

It is often said that our better men will have nothing to do with politics, because they find themselves compromised by the conjunctions they must form with low-toned and corrupt men to accomplish good ends. But this is a disgraceful confession. Really good and high-toned men cannot form conjunctions with base and degraded politicians. They can enter political life not to carry good measures by any means, but to seek good measures by good means only. So it was that Grote and Mill and Lewes and the radical party went into the English Parliament and by honest persistency in honest measures honestly supported, in thirty years saw the end of their desires without once bending a hair from their integrity, although for twenty years they had no practical results from their labor. Our reformers must not seek to achieve good measures by bad means, or swift reforms, however important by compromises of principle. The worst evil from which we can suffer, is the lack of conscience in public affairs.—Liberal Christian.

Ellsworth's Betrothed.

When Ellsworth died he was affianced to a beautiful young lady, who made vows at his death to lead a mournful life of celibacy. The reporter of the Albany Times made inquiry concerning this lady of Ellsworth's mother the other day. He says:

But in answer to my question the soft-spoken woman answered quietly, as she placed her hand upon which gleamed a wedding ring to her cheek, "she is not here."

"Is she sick or—dead?"

"Neither one or the other, I believe; but the lady is married."

"You surprise me! Is not that strange?"

"Well, I don't know; some would have married and some would have not. It was not until six years after his death occurred."

The Galena, Illinois, Gazette is responsible for the following: As the Gate City pulled up the landing in this city on Sunday afternoon, the superintendent of a certain Sabbath school was wending his way in the direction of the church. Casting his eye along the wharf, he discovered a large crowd of men and boys, and sighed in his heart at the thought that several of his flock might be there, having been attracted by the arrival of the first boat of the season. On reaching the Sabbath school, however, he was delighted to see both teachers and scholars in their accustomed seats, whereupon he acquitted himself of a congratulatory speech, announcing that he was proud to say that not even the first boat of the season had drawn away a single one of his flock. In the twinkling of an eye there was a general stampede for the door, and when that Sunday school superintendent arose from the floor, where he had been violently thrown by the retreating mass, and had collected his thoughts sufficiently to determine in his own mind whether he was himself or some one else, he cast his eyes about the room, and through the partially settled dust, he made the sad discovery that he was alone with several rows of empty benches. His scholars had remained in blissful ignorance of the news until he had given them the cue.

A Dublin merchant, named Johnson, was very hard on his clerks, and when a visitor left his store without a purchase, he would discharge the clerk. He took a positon near the door, and as customers passed out would inquire if they had been properly served. On one occasion a lady was negotiating with a clerk for a shawl, but the sale was not made. The clerk called the lady's attention to the old gentleman, who was, as usual, standing at the door, waiting to waylay the lady with the customary question. "That old man," said the clerk, "is crazy. He may attempt to stop you as you go out, and you had best avoid him, as he is sometimes dangerous." The lady started for the door, and as the old gentleman approached her gave a shriek and darted out. Johnson was greatly astonished, and walking back to the clerk asked: "Do you know that lady?" "No, sir," replied the clerk, "but I think she must be crazy." "You are right," returned the old gentleman, "she must be crazy."

Among the performances at Berlin at the present time, there are none that attract the attention as much as the exhibition of educated fleas. One of the most accomplished of the insects, obeying a sudden impulse of its nature, sprang from the table and took refuge on the person of an illustrious lady. The exhibitor was in despair, as the truant was his best performer, and said he would be ruined unless it could be recovered. The lady good naturedly retired to an adjoining room, and, after a few minutes' absence, returned with the flea between her thumb and forefinger. The exhibitor took it eagerly, gave one look at it, and then, with visible embarrassment, said: "Your highness will pardon me, but this is not the right flea."

Valuable Information.

BOSTON, Dec 12, 1869.

Gentlemen: My only object in giving you this estimonial is to spread valuable information. Having been badly afflicted with Salt Rheum, and the whole surface of my skin being covered with pimples and eruptions, many of which caused me great pain and annoyance, and knowing it to be a blood disease, I took many of the advertised blood preparations, among which was any quantity of Sarsaparilla, without obtaining any benefit, until I commenced taking the VEGETINE; and before I had completed the first bottle I saw that I had got the right medicine. Consequently I followed on with it until I had taken seven bottles, when I was pronounced a well man; and my skin is smooth, and entirely free from pimples and eruptions. I have never enjoyed so good health before, and I attribute it all to the use of VEGETINE. To benefit those afflicted with Rheumatism, I will make mention also of this distressing complaint, of which I have suffered so intensely.

C. H. TUCKER, Pas. Ag't Mich. C. R. R.
69 Washington street, Boston.

Every One Speaks Favorably,

EAST MARSHFIELD, Aug. 31, 1870.

MR. STEVENS: Dear Sir: I have been troubled with Canker from childhood, causing my mouth to be sore at times, so that I was unable to eat. Have taken many preparations, but with no effect until I tried your VEGETINE. After taking a few doses, I found it relieved the faintness at the stomach that always accompanies Canker humor; and by the time I had taken the third bottle my mouth was entirely cured. Have not been troubled with it since that time, which is eight months ago. I have recommended it to several of my acquaintances; and every one speaks favorably of its good effect.

Yours truly P. S. SHERMAN.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, May 1, 1871.

DEAR SIR: This is to certify that I have sold at retail, sixty-three dozen (756 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870, and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy, for the complaints for which it is recommended, that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am personally cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity.

Very respectfully yours, H. GILMAN,
To H. R. STEVENS, Esq. 468 Broadway.

FURTHER PROOF.

SPRINGFIELD, Me., May 4, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS: My daughter has been out of health for about two years. About a year ago she had a tumor come on her side, which was very painful. I saw VEGETINE advertised in the Farmer, and sent to Bangor and got two bottles. She is now taking the second bottle; her health is much improved, and the tumor is going away as fast as it came. Every one in this vicinity knows what VEGETINE has done for my daughter, and I take every opportunity to recommend it to those who are not aware of its great value. Very respectfully,

MRS. SUSAN C. RANDALL.

Agents Wanted for "TELL IT ALL"

By Mrs. T. B. H. Stenhouse, for 25 years wife of a Mormon High Priest. With an introduction by HARRIET BEECHER STOWE. Two years ago the author wrote a pamphlet on Polygamy which excited the Mormon newspapers to sneeringly invite her to write a book and "Tell It All." Eminent men and women urged her to accept the challenge, and "Tell It All" is the result. It is the only book on this subject ever written by a real Mormon woman. 625 pp, superbly illustrated and bound. It outsells all other books three to one. It takes like wildfire. 100,000 will be sold. Agents, now is your opportunity. Our descriptive pamphlet, terms, &c., sent free to all. Address A. D. WORTHINGTON & CO., Hartford, Conn. May 27w4

A Midnight Surprise.

Says the Louisville Journal: In the family of Mr. Jacob Leszinsky, living at No. 308 Market street, near Shelby, there is a daughter, Miss Pauline, about fifteen years of age, prominent among whose other personal attractions is an unusually fine suit of hair. In fact, its great beauty was the occasion of common remark among the people of the neighborhood with whom she was acquainted. It was long, reaching below the waist, of a rich, dark brown color, abundant and very heavy. Being yet a school-girl, and frequently passing through the streets, this growth of hair did not escape the notice of parties, who determined to possess it. Miss Pauline was accustomed to wear the hair in two long braids, and it was so arranged when she, with a younger sister, retired Monday night. The two slept in the rear room of the second story, in which was a window looking out on the back yard. Below the window was the roof of the kitchen, so that approach from the ground was comparatively easy. The night being warm and very pleasant, the sash was raised, although the door, leading into the hall, was locked. At some time during the night, the exact hour she does not know, she suddenly awoke with a feeling of oppressiveness and semi-conscious that something was wrong. Hastily arising and going to the window, she looked out into the yard; but could discern nothing. Then, after getting into bed again, she heard faint whispering below, and once more arose and tried the door. This she found locked as she had left it on retiring. It was at this juncture that she first discovered that the braid on the right side of the head had been entirely severed and stolen. So terrified did she become at learning her loss that she was utterly unable to speak for a time, and remained quiet until morning, when she hurried to her parents' room and told them of the occurrence. An examination of the premises was at once instituted, but no trace of the villains were found. The braid taken is of such a texture and of such length as is valued at a very high price among hair dealers, and will of course realize a large sum if a disposition of it can be made.

Patient Continuance in Well-Doing.

It is often said that our better men will have nothing to do with politics, because they find themselves compromised by the conjunctions they must form with low-toned and corrupt men to accomplish good ends. But this is a disgraceful confession. Really good and high-toned men cannot form conjunctions with base and degraded politicians. They can enter political life not to carry good measures by any means, but to seek good measures by good means only. So it was that Grote and Mill and Lewes and the radical party went into the English Parliament and by honest persistency in honest measures honestly supported, in thirty years saw the end of their desires without once bending a hair from their integrity, although for twenty years they had no practical results from their labor. Our reformers must not seek to achieve good measures by bad means, or swift reforms, however important by compromises of principle. The worst evil from which we can suffer, is the lack of conscience in public affairs.—Liberal Christian.

Ellsworth's Betrothed.

When Ellsworth died he was affianced to a beautiful young lady, who made vows at his death to lead a mournful life of celibacy. The reporter of the Albany Times made inquiry concerning this lady of Ellsworth's mother the other day. He says:

But in answer to my question the soft-spoken woman answered quietly, as she placed her hand upon which gleamed a wedding ring to her cheek, "She is not here."

"Is she sick or—dead?"

"Neither one or the other, I believe; but the lady is married."

"You surprise me! Is not that strange?"

"Well, I don't know; some would have married and some would have not. It was not until six years after his death occurred."

The Galena, Illinois, Gazette is responsible for the following: As the Gate City pulled up the landing in this city on Sunday afternoon, the superintendent of a certain Sabbath school was wending his way in the direction of the church. Casting his eye along the wharf, he discovered a large crowd of men and boys, and sighed in his heart at the thought that several of his flock might be there, having been attracted by the arrival of the first boat of the season. On reaching the Sabbath school, however, he was delighted to see both teachers and scholars in their accustomed seats, whereupon he acquitted himself of a congratulatory speech, announcing that he was proud to say that not even the first boat of the season had drawn away a single one of his flock. In the twinkling of an eye there was a general stampede for the door, and when that Sunday school superintendent arose from the floor, where he had been violently thrown by the retreating mass, and had collected his thoughts sufficiently to determine in his own mind whether he was himself or some one else, he cast his eyes about the room, and through the partially settled dust, he made the sad discovery that he was alone with several rows of empty benches. His scholars had remained in blissful ignorance of the news until he had given them the cue.

A Dublin merchant, named Johnson, was very hard on his clerks, and when a visitor left his store without a purchase, he would discharge the clerk. He took a positon near the door, and as customers passed out would inquire if they had been properly served. On one occasion a lady was negotiating with a clerk for a shawl, but the sale was not made. The clerk called the lady's attention to the old gentleman, who was, as usual, standing at the door, waiting to waylay the lady with the customary question. "That old man," said the clerk, "is crazy. He may attempt to stop you as you go out, and you had best avoid him, as he is sometimes dangerous." The lady started for the door, and as the old gentleman approached her gave a shriek and darted out. Johnson was greatly astonished, and walking back to the clerk asked: "Do you know that lady?" "No, sir," replied the clerk, "but I think she must be crazy." "You are right," returned the old gentleman, "she must be crazy."

Among the performances at Berlin at the present time, there are none that attract the attention as much as the exhibition of educated fleas. One of the most accomplished of the insects, obeying a sudden impulse of its nature, sprang from the table and took refuge on the person of an illustrious lady. The exhibitor was in despair, as the truant was his best performer, and said he would be ruined unless it could be recovered. The lady good naturedly retired to an adjoining room, and, after a few minutes' absence, returned with the flea between her thumb and forefinger. The exhibitor took it eagerly, gave one look at it, and then, with visible embarrassment, said: "Your highness will pardon me, but this is not the right flea."

The Daily Freeman

Kingston, Wednesday Morning, June 10.

Evidently to the special correspondent of the New York Times, who gives a description of the Faraday, an English steamer which has been laying a submarine telegraph cable from Faraday Cove in Nova Scotia to the Isle of Shoals, off Portsmouth, N. H., the ways of a ship are dark, but some sailor's tricks are not vain, for the correspondent is made to say, "that she may go forward and back with equal facility; she is, in marine phrase a "double-ender," with a rudder at either end and one in the centre." And pray of what use is the rudder in the centre, and what effect would its movements have on the vessel?

Considering the youth of the warm season, we must admit that the "god of storms" is coming on the stage with a tragical rush. It is rare to hear of such tremendous tempests with hail, thunder and lightning, to match at this time of year as swept over and upon Troy, Syracuse and Utica on Sunday. We are not sure that the clerk of the weather can be constitutionally impeached, although he does make very free with other people's comfort and property. Look out for the lightning-rod confidence men about this time; with their sweet smiles and their gilt-edged, patent protectors they do more harm than thunderbolts.

A Dr. Russel writes to the New York Times protesting against muzzling dogs with a view to prevent their biting people when they (the dogs) run mad and madly run. We cannot reproduce his argument, although we don't doubt it will convince everybody who owns a pet canine which he loves and believes in.—What we should like to know is what Dr. Russel means by saying that no muzzle has ever been invented which can be retained upon an unwilling dog without seriously obstructing its breathing and buccal transpiration. We can understand the "breathing" part of it, but what is "buccal transpiration?" If we had a dog with that attachment we should cut his tail off.

The suicide at Wilmington, Delaware, of a Mrs. Bradley, on account of domestic unhappiness, leads us to remark that a very large measure of crime, both against self and others, arises from the cause just mentioned. In a former editorial The Freeman pointed out the difference between English civilization and our own in respect of household exclusiveness. Here the doors of sacred homes are opened too easily and close acquaintances are formed too soon. It is our habit to push things and we brag of it. One of the adjectives under ban of reverence in this country is the word "slow." Whatever else we neglect or lose, we must "make time." Jones introduces Smith to Thompson as his "very particular friend," when he has not known him for a week. Women are made the centres of social circles more or less large, according to the plane of their life, soon after marriage; while to give and attend all sorts of social assemblages and possess many "intimate friends" of both sexes, crowds a young wife's career with temptations of which only the initiated know the force. The husband is proportionately free to pour out his admiring soul at many shrines, and it would be a miracle indeed if upon some one or more of them he did not leave an offering no longer his to give away. In simpler words, home, the spring of all genuine happiness in our aggregate life, is not guarded as it should be. We do not ask that American fathers and husbands should become jealous as the slippered master of a seraglio, but in a world where trouble so easily scales the castles best defended, it is worth while to trust our dearest things with nobody except ourselves; and to make sure that we do our utmost to render home so happy that none of its inmates sigh for forbidden fruit. The subject is worth our throwing out this bint; those who live in frequent fear can fill up the outline.

Slang.

Isn't it almost time for sensible people to begin to discourage the use of slang? If we once set ourselves seriously to thinking how extensive its prevalence really is and that it is actually damaging in its influence, we shall possibly be not a little surprised. Almost everybody is more or less slangy in his talk. From the grave and reverend seigniors on the bench and in the pulpit down to the street Arabs, pours the unintermitting stream of slang. About once a month a new phrase is set afloat by some unknown genius who has, perhaps, almost sacrificed his life in giving birth to it, and instantaneously it becomes current over the whole country. The large cities get hold of it first, as they do of all the trash vomited out upon the earth, and from them the new slang phrase soon makes its triumphant way to the lesser cities and towns in the direct course of travel. In a few days more the bucolic neighborhoods are repeating with native grins and rolling it as a savory morsel under their slow and cumbrous tongues. It has its day, like the dog in the proverb, and dies out at length only to make room for its certain successor. Young ladies and boarding school misses riot in slang; they are in respect of using it even worse than the vain male adolescent with his cane and strange oaths. Now, we hope not to be counted among the class whom Charles Reade speaks of as "prurient prudes;" for we do not feel any natural or cultivated affinity for them whatever. But we should like to say that when language is abused thought itself is correspondingly degraded; for words are the life-blood of the body of ideas. So, when the most solemn facts of our existence and experience are alluded to habitually in the lowest of words and phrases, the tendency cannot be otherwise than to demoralize the conceptions of those facts in the popular mind. Let us have fun when we innocently can and be witty if we have the gift, but, for a pitying Heaven's sake, spare us a deluge of verbal ditch-water drawn from which is the sewerage of fools.

Next Winter.

The assumption that we have a hard winter before us will be regarded by many as decidedly gratuitous, if not insulting. We are now not quite in the middle of the balmy, luscious month of June. Summer is a bride who has not yet aired the whole of her original trousseau; the foliage of the trees in forest and park has some increase still to make before the designs of its author are completely filled. Warm weather is still too much of a novelty and a luxury to be tedious or oppressive. All the world that can make the temporary change is conning its preliminary arrangements for its annual escape into the country for the torrid term. Watering-places are holding out to their patrons who are still gasping between the sun's rays from above and the reflection of them from the pitiless sidewalks an attractive bill of fresh inducements for the season. The heavy men of Wall street cross the ferry from their Brooklyn bed-rooms with the remark to each other said to have been quoted by the Plymouth preacher on a July forenoon in his church. "It's —— hot." Sun-umbrellas are popular with the managing mammas as they take their matutinal walk to market. Cremation is a tabooed topic; the graceless rascal who alludes to consuming fire, either as pertaining to this or the future world, is looked upon as the pitiable victim of an uncontrollable morbid impulse. Strawberries can be bought for a shilling a quart and ice cream is, as a western paper asserts, a "desirable beverage." Japanese fans lie around in heaps waiting for perspiring purchasers at six cents each. The churches on Sunday are exhibiting a "beggarly account of empty boxes," while eloquent pastors are quietly discussing the objective point of their intended fishing excursion. Shall it be for porgies, bass, pickerel or trout? that is the question; not, Is science in opposition to Revelation in the matter of the descent of man?

Now, in the midst of this cloud of witnesses testifying to the presence of summer on the earth, shall we be pardoned for daring to intimate that winter is nevertheless on its way? Daniel Webster quoted Dr. Watts to prove that a man's mortal hour could be legally extended over the whole period of his life, for, said the great lawyer, doth not the hymnist affirm,

"Soon as we draw our infant breath
The seeds of sin grow up for death?"

So winter is suggested by summer itself and the household need of coal for artificial fires is hinted at when the whole building where we live is thrown open—doors, windows and all—to catch a cooling capfull of vagrant wind. Therefore, he who is obliged to earn most of the wherewithall to buy winter supplies by his labor during the open months, is a simpleton to throw away his chances to do so for a whim or in a spasm of false independence—and this very thing thousands of working men appear determined to do. They ask higher wages than capitalists and contractors can afford to pay, and being refused stop work and lie about idle, or do worse, waiting for money to surrender to a pack of lazy fools. This it will never do—the condition of the money market is such just now as not to invite capital to take any risks which it is unable to see to the end of. Neither will contractors begin jobs which they cannot feel able to finish within a short time. As long as the continuance of labor is so unsettled no man will begin, let us say, the erection of a building and take the risks of having it on his hands in an incomplete state when frost shall set in. Now, let workingmen all over the country judge whether it is not manifestly to their advantage to work for fifty cents less per day when by so doing they can have work until the first of December, rather than to compel a contractor to pay an inordinate rate for labor when it is sure to throw both him and his employees out of business by midsummer? Poverty is proverbially improvident, especially when joined with ignorance, but if the laboring man who happens to read these words of ours will reflect that half a loaf is better than no bread and that the interests of employers and employed are radically identical we shall feel repaid for writing them. And let every worker remember that if he does not lay aside his own nonsensical theories of what ought to be the relations of things to each other and accept what he can get to do at the prices capital can afford to pay, he will find next winter the bitterest he has ever known.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN

FOREIGN.

SPAIN.

Latest from the Seat of War.

MADRID, June 9.—Advices from the scene of war in the north state that the Carlist forces are concentrating in intrenched positions about Puerto la Reina, a town in the province of Navarre, thirteen miles southwest of Pamplona. The main body of the republican army is still at Logrona. The weather is stormy, which delays battle. The Carlist diversion towards Aragon was frustrated by the republicans.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Thunderer on the Spanish Question.

LONDON, June 9.—The Times this morning, in an editorial commenting on the communication recently sent to various powers by the Spanish government, says: "It is hinted that the time approaches when the Spanish government must be received within the pale of nations on terms of equality. If it be proved that the Carlist Generals are incapable of keeping the enemy at bay in Biscay and Navarre the insurrection is likely to collapse. The limits of Carlist strength on Carlist ground are now pretty well defined, and when the national army resumes operations it is not likely to encounter effectual resistance. These more cheerful prospects justify the Spanish government in making an appeal to the public opinion of the world, and should Serrano maintain himself and constitute a stable de facto government we know of no reason why it should not be recognized as well as MacMahon's."

CUBA.

The Havanese Find it Difficult to Obtain Specie.

HAVANA, June 9th, 1874.—The exchange offices are closed to-day. The proprietors of some of them have given up business and returned their licenses. The closing of these offices causes much inconvenience to the public, as there are now no places at which to buy specie in small sums to pay postage and tolls.

TENNESSEE.

Denial from the Colored People.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 9.—The colored people held a mass meeting last night at which speeches were made by leading colored men denying that there was any intention on the part of the colored people to get up a riot, and accusing a couple of newspapers of attempting to create strife between two races for political effect. Resolutions were adopted to the same effect.

A Negro Shoots and Kills His Daughter.

A special dispatch to the Appeal from Sardis, Miss., says that a negro named Mose Gregory, living near there, becoming incensed at his wife, attempted to shoot her and shot his daughter Emma, 13 years of age, and killed her. On being arrest he admitted the killing, and said that he tried to kill his wife and would kill her yet.

HEAVY SUIT AGAINST RAILROADS.

960,000 Acres of Land Valued at $5,000,000 Involved.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—In the great land case between settlers on the Osage ceded lands in Kansas and Missouri and the Kansas & Texas and Leavenworth, Lawrence & Galf Railroads was argued yesterday before Judges Miller and Dillon in the United States Circuit Court at Leavenworth. Title to 960,000 acres of land, valued at $5,000,000, and the homes of 20,000 settlers are involved. Argument will be continued to-day and a decision rendered before the court adjourns.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Movements of the Noble Red Man.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Information has been received at the army headquarters of a movement on the part of Comanche and Cheyenne Indians against the whites in general and the people of Texas particularly. They evince a determination to move against the Fort Sill reservation and agency, and thence on a raid into Texas. The information comes from George Fox, interpreter for the Kiowas, and is forwarded by the commanding officer at Fort Sill. Fox says there will be no Kiowas on the war-path this summer.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the New England and the northern portion of the Middle States and the lower lake region light rains and partly cloudy weather will prevail, with north and west winds, a slight fall in temperature and rising barometer.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

The Coming Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Fifteen yachts have entered for the yacht club race on Thursday.

Erie Railway Affairs.

The investigation by accountants into the affairs of the Erie Railway continues, but no report has yet been made. The broad gauge track is to be remodeled to a narrow gauge immediately.

The Penalty for Assaulting a Carpet.

J. J. Roberts was shot through the body by a stray pistol bullet yesterday while beating a carpet in a lot near his house uptown. He will probably die. It is not known who fired the shot.

Down on Cheap Labor.

About 8 o'clock this morning an affray took place between the laborers on strike and the Italians who are employed on new buildings on Broadway between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets. The Italians were stoned by the laborers and two of the former dangerously injured. They were taken to the Twenty-second Precinct station-house, and though the Coroner was sent for by order of the police surgeon, the wounded men were sent home by the police, who wished the matter to be hushed up. No account of the affray was telegraphed to police headquarters until late in the day.

Brooklyn's Charity Commissioners.

The jury this afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty against Messrs. Powell, Ferguson and Wells, Charity Commissioners of Brooklyn; Cunningham was acquitted. The charge against them was malfeasance in office and the verdict specified guilty in neglecting to advertise according to law and of conspiracy in general. Tracy moved for an arrest of judgment. His argument will be heard Friday next. The convicted Commissioners have meanwhile been released on $5,000 bail.

Transportation.

At a meeting of the Directors of the New York Cheap Transportation Association, held this afternoon, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That a permanent department or bureau with sufficient powers should without delay be provided by Congress for the purpose of obtaining, preserving and circulating information relative to the subject of transportation.

Copies of the resolution were ordered to be transmitted to members of Congress.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Court of Appeals Decision in a Ring Suit.

ALBANY, June 9.—Among the decisions handed down in the Court of Appeals to-day was one affirming the judgment with costs in the case of The People of the State of New York, appellants, vs. James H. Ingersoll, Impleaded with William M. Tweed, Elbert A. Woodward and Andrew J. Garvey, respondents. The appeal presented the question of what public corporate entity should be the plaintiff in an action to recover money fraudulently obtained by means of an undue and unadvised exercise of public authority which wrought no immediate loss to any individual, or judicially recognizable entity not involved in any possibility of a future injury except to such persons as might at a future period indicated by law belong to the class of local tax-payers. The prevailing opinion handed down to-day is written by Judge Allen and Judges Grover, Folger, Andrews and Johnson concur. Judge Rapello writes a dissenting opinion, in which Chief Justice Church concurs. The decision is that the state as such is not concerned in the alleged grievances, and therefore, it not being entitled to any judicial remedy, action ought to have been brought in the name of the county. The Legislature at its last session passed a law transferring all the property of the county to the city, so that in continuance of suit the City of New York will have to be substituted for the State of New York.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Sumner Memorial Services.

BOSTON, June 9.—The Massachusetts Legislature devoted the day to memorial services of Chas. Sumner. George William Curtis delivered the address and a poem by John G. Whittier was read.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Calendar for To-day.

ALBANY, June 9.—Court of Appeals calendar for June 10th: Nos. 79, 80, 81, 28, 84, 86, 87, 69.

THE BOWDOIN STUDENTS.

They Answer to the Bugle Call.

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 9.—Nearly all the suspended students have renewed their obligation of obedience to college laws and have resumed their studies. This afternoon, at the usual hour for drill, they answered to the call of the bugle and the military exercises were conducted with full ranks.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 9.

The Conference Committee report on the army appropriation bill was agreed to.

The Senate then resumed discussion of the molety bill, and the amendments made in Committee of the Whole were agreed to, with the exception of the twenty-ninth section, which Mr. CONKLING moved to amend by striking out the words "of the United States," inserted on motion of Mr. Wadleigh. Upon this motion the yeas and nays were called for, and resulted in 9 yeas and 22 nays —no quorum voting.

At 7:45 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. SEVER of Virginia asked leave to offer a resolution directing the Attorney General to institute a full and thorough judicial investigation into the character of all allowances paid at the Treasury Department, as well as of claims still due for expenditures in the Marshal's office of the Western District of Arkansas since the first of July, 1870, and to report the result thereof to the House on the first of May, next session.

Mr. HYNES of Arkansas objected unless he was permitted to offer an amendment that no part of the claims shall be paid until the department has been satisfied of their correctness.

Mr. SEVER objected to that on the ground that it would permit the department to be the ultimate judge in the matter, so the resolution was not received.

Mr. SPEER of Pennsylvania, member of the Committee on Contingent Expenses in the Department of Justice, addressed the House on the subject of enormous expenditure in the Western Judicial District of Arkansas. A summary of the committee's report on the subject was embraced in last Saturday's House proceedings. He spoke of the fudge of that district as a person by the name of Story, from Wisconsin, who had res ained in that position to mock the administration of justice, and who, if not personally dishonest—and he believed he was—had been during his whole term of office the friend and bosom companion of rascals and thieves. He had made an analysis of expenditures in that district, from which he discovered that outside of the large amount paid to witnesses and jurors, the Marshal and his deputies and clerks had received in three years the enormous sum of $482,101.

Mr. CESSNA, of Pennsylvania, member of the Judiciary Committee, which has been investigating the same matter in connection with the proposed impeachment of Judge Story, stated that in fourteen months and twenty days the Marshal's office of that district had cost the government a little over $403,000.

Mr. SPEER, in further course of his remarks, said that the costs of the court for its actual sessions were $2,500 daily, and the accounts bore irradicable marks of the boldest and most audacious frauds. He recounted the history of the Western District of Arkansas, which had started, he said, with a corrupt Judge—a Judge who was in the habit of admitting to bail prisoners tried and convicted of capital offences and letting them go free forever afterward, a Judge who was shown to have bought certificates issued for the pay of jurors and witnesses at a discount of forty or fifty or sixty cents on the dollar, a Judge who was charged with having received a bribe of $25,000 for admitting a nolle prosequi to be entered in a certain case, a Judge whose records were marred and interlined and erased and confused, a Judge who had approved one of the Marshal's vouchers for $20,000 in blank, a Judge who had allowed the government to be pandered of hundreds of thousands of dollars. It was, however, but justice to that Judge to say that in response to the committee's invitation he had appeared before it and made a statement, but that statement was lame and unsatisfactory—it was not a statement of a man conscious of his official and personal integrity, not the statement of a man who felt keenly the injustice done him by such charges, but the statement of a cringing, shrinking, cowardly, corrupt man. The next step in the frauds was an infamous and corrupt Marshal named William A. Britton, and the means adopted were the getting of ficticious lists of Deputy Marshals and making out bills in such names, also the buying up of vouchers for jurors, witnesses and deputies at twenty, thirty and forty cents on the dollar, and in some instances cartloads of them could be got at two bits on the dollar, which vouchers were afterwards paid in full at the Treasury Department. He stated that suspicion having been aroused in Washington, an investigation by the Grand Jury was ordered and it was arranged by Britton and the District Attorney, also a party to the frauds, that a favorable report should be made, and so the bills were paid and Britton, who had been removed, was reinstated by the President in the absence of the Attorney General, but the Attorney General had afterwards gone before the Senate and had the appointment of Britton rejected. But disposing of Britton, a worse man was appointed in the person of Logan H. Roots, who immediately organized a national bank at Fort Smith, became owner of three-fifths of the stock and continued to peddle out by the cartload certificates for pay of witnesses, jurors and Deputy Marshals. Roots then sent these vouchers for payment to his own bank to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars, and they were paid at an enormous discount. Speer also referred to the fact that on one occasion when vouchers of Britton's to the amount of $10,000 or $50,000 were pending before one of the auditing officers in the Department of Justice, Britton picked up a son of that official and gave him a clerkship in Arkansas with a salary of $2,500 a year, and after that the vouchers were allowed. Figures which Speer presented in the course of his speech showed that the expenses of that district for 1871–2–3 were $743,023, of which sum $14,791 was paid to grand jurors, $32,014 to petit jurors and $114,117 to witnesses, leaving $582,101 for Marshals, deputies and clerks. Taking the year 1872, when the expenses of that district, with a population of less than 300,000, were $321,653, he said that they exceeded like expenses for the same year of all the New England States, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio, with a population of ten and a half millions. At the close of Mr. Speer's speech the objection to the resolution was withdrawn and it was adopted.

The House then took up the Geneva award bill, to which Mr. Poland of Vt., offered a substitute.

Mr. BUTLER of Mass. addressed the House in explanation and in advocacy of the substitute presented by himself from the Judiciary Committee referring to the proposition to pay insurance companies. He said that there was an active lobby at work in favor of these insurers and underwriters, who had received two dollars for every dollar they lost. Rather than let any of the money go to them he thought it had better go to make jetties in the mouth of the Mississippi River, levees on its banks, and to clear out mud banks in a lake anywhere that a muskrat can swim. In conclusion, he warned the House against countenancing an unseemly struggle for this money, and said the effect of such a struggle would be to place the money in the position of the French spoliation claims, and that it would not be decided in this generation.

Mr. TREMAINE of New York, opposed Butler's substitute. In the course of his speech he asserted that the bill never could have been reported at all unless mutual insurance companies had been provided for in it, and yet the first act of the Chairman who had the bill in charge was to admit an amendment to strike out that provision.

Mr. FRYE of Maine asserted that the committee had been deliberately cheated into admitting that provision.

Mr. TREMAIN declared indignantly, that he hurled back on the champions of war the premium claims and the assertion that the committee had been cheated into admitting that provision—an assertion totally unfounded in fact. Unless it had been put in the bill the bill could never have been reported.

Mr. WOODFORD of New York proposed to have the Geneva award distributed by the courts, and to whom claimants must prove their claims.

Other members discussed the bill until 5 o'clock, when the House took a recess till 7:30, the evening session to be for general discussion. Debate on the Geneva bill is to be continued to-morrow till 3 o'clock, when the previous question is to be considered, seconded and after a closing speech by Butler a vote is to be taken.

EVENING SESSION.

The House evening session was almost entirely given up to speeches on general subjects.

Mr. WILSON of Indiana, from the Joint Select Committee on the District Investigation, reported a bill to re-organize the District government. Ordered to be printed and recommitted.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Jones of Nevada is credited with the authorship of Grant's memorandum.

—Schurz is to go to the House if he can't get back to the Senate. Well, the House needs brains.

—Everybody will be glad to learn that Treasurer Spinner's resignation was not accepted. We wouldn't recognize a greenback without that signature.

—Now that Sawyer is out of a job, it is proposed to send him out as an Indian Commissioner. Is this the way we are going to try the gentle peace policy with our wards?

—Has any one seen anything of a stray Earl? The English newspapers report one missing, although they do not name him. Perhaps he's been captured by some enterprising Yankee girl.

—Is Gen. Butler's remark that the government can take a man's shirt off his back any explanation why the administration proposes to take Schurz out of the Senate?

—The colored cadet Smith, of whom we have heard before, we believe, will fail, 'tis said, and will have to leave West Point. Perhaps it's all right, but isn't it possible the Pointers have designedly caused this failure?

—The Tribune is quite effervescing in its praise of the President for his financial views. It says: "No bolder, more comprehensive, more practical, or more effective plan of resumption has yet seen the light in this country."

—Another delusion gone. Dr. Livingstone's papers declare the lion to be a very cowardly beast—that he runs away with his tail between his legs at the slightest alarm. This knocks the spots out of lots of romance and will involve the change of some fellows' titles.

—The winter in Nevada has been fearful. Many graziers have lost all the cattle they possessed, and nearly all have lost a large per centage of their stock. In Honey Lake Valley hay sold for $60 per ton, and at one time for $130. Cattle are still dying there, and a person while riding through the valley is hardly ever out of sight of their carcases.

—Thurlow Weed has planted six acres of corn, this year, with his own hands. It must be said of Thurlow that he has spent pretty nearly his whole life planting and sowing for other men to reap. He might have made millions—he is content with a moderate fortune. He has trained some men of brains to fill roles in American history to which they could never have attained without him, and he has taken some little men by the trousers and "boosted" them into positions, which they have filled pretty much as Mr. Titmouse filled his seat in Parliament. We hope he will live to gather that corn himself.—Brooklyn Argus.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—The first locomotive and train of passenger cars passed over the St. Louis bridge on Tuesday.

—Monday afternoon at Stanton shaft, of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., James Williams, watchman, was descending the shaft when an explosion of gas occurred. He was thrown to the bottom, a distance of 600 feet. There is twenty-five feet of water in the shaft and his body has not as yet been recovered.

—The sessions of the American Institute of Homeopathy began at Niagara Falls Tuesday Dr. J. J. Youlin, President, in the opening address said France has 4,000 Homeopathic practitioners and numerous journals, hospitals and dispensaries. Germany has 300 practitioners, Great Britain 400 and Italy 200, while in the United States there are nearly 6,000 practitioners. About 300 members are already present.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—The Pope is very decided on universal suffrage. He calls it "a horrible wound which afflicts human society."

—Specials represent great dissatisfaction among inflationists with the attitude of the President on the financial question, and it is considered doubtful whether Congress can agree upon any bill that the President will sign. The conference committee will probably present a bill, embracing as far as practicable the President's views as to time of redemption of legal tenders. In conversation the President says that the Republican party as well as himself is committed to the policy of bringing about specie payments at the earliest possible day, and they could not afford to disregard these pledges.

Briggs.

All hail the glorious success! Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies have become so popular that druggists are sending in duplicate orders, and those who have tried them pronounce them safe, scientific and certain in their results; never fail to afford immediate relief, and never injure the most delicate foot. Sold by J. D. & I. L. Du Bois, Gardiner, and Tuthill.

Briggs.

PILES.—It's all very well for those not troubled to think it is nothing to have Piles; for this reason, the unfortunate sufferer gets very little sympathy; the agony of Tophet is not or cannot be much worse than the torture endured by millions who are troubled with internal, bleeding, external and itching piles. Glad tidings for the sufferer, Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure. Sold by the Hudson River Cement Company, East Kingston.

Briggs.

CORNS.—It is beyond question that corns, bunions, bad nails, sore insteps, &c., torment more people than any other affliction. They are as unnecessary as dishonest politicians, yet they continue their obnoxious career, defying all attempts to get rid of them, until the application of Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies. Allevantor and Curative, which eradicates Corns, banishes Bunions, cures ingrowing nails, and other ailments of the feet. Sold by J. H. VanWagonen, Creek Locks.

Briggs.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the sufferings from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bone, the bottoms of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies, Allevantor and Curative, will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by Thomas C. Harmlen, Allgerville.

Briggs.

There are only a few torments worse than corns, such as inschief making neighbors, scolding wives, lazy, drunken husbands, howling dogs and squalling cats under your window, the chance of the butcher, the baker, the grocer, the milkman and the landlord, when you haven't a cent to pay. If troubled with corns, bunions, bad nails, or other foetal impediments, treat them with Briggs' Allevantor and Curative, and be happy. Sold by druggists. By mail 50c. Dr. J. BRIGGS & Co., Newark, N. J. Sold by J. H. Snyder, High Falls.

Briggs.

CATARRH.—If your head, nose and throat are filled with a burdensome mass of mucus, either dry or moist, thin or thick, white or yellow, and your eyes swollen and heavy, your head feeling unusually large, with a constant dull, heavy pain all through it, feeling from Catarrh, use Dr. J. BRIGGS' Allevantor. The mucus will be immediately discharged from the head nose and throat; the eyes brighten and sparkle with delight; the head feels natural again; all pain has fled, and life is once more desirable. Sold by Alfred Perrine, Shawangunk.

Briggs.

LISTEN.—What do you hear? A cough? What does it indicate? Perhaps a tickle in the throat, perhaps bronchitis; it may be a recent cold; it may be an effort of nature to clear the bronchia; it may be the deep hollow cough, boon companion of that terrible monster, consumption; in either case the free use of Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer, as directed, will banish all kinds of cough, and cure bronchitis certain, and all the early symptoms of consumption. Briggs' Remedies. Sold by M. J. De Witt, Allgerville.

Briggs.

How can any person listen to a sermon delivered in eloquent style by the favorite minister, or to a lecture by the most popular speaker, or enjoy the drama, comedy, opera, or the dance, when the agonies of Tophet are going on inside of the boot? It is simply impossible to enjoy any of these pleasures, eat, drink, or sleep in peace when corns are twinging, bunions are throbbing, and ingrowing nails are distressing you beyond endurance. Use Dr. Briggs' corn and bunion remedies and be happy. Sold by Miss Sarah E. Storms, Modena.

Briggs.

Look! Behold! There goes a poor, sad, discouraged mortal, dragging out a miserable existence. See! he stops. Something attracts his attention. He is reading the advertisement of Briggs' Pile remedies, for the positive cure of internal, bleeding, external and itching piles. He smiles, turns away, and with great animation hastens to the nearest drug store, procures a box, seeks his home, is not seen on the street for a week. When he comes forth for another walk, he looks cheerful and happy, and tells every one he meets 'tis found. Briggs' pile remedies are a sure cure for piles. Sold by Dr. Luther LeFever, Modena.

Briggs.

CORNS.—Are the most plentiful kind of grain in the market. Every one has a supply, from the little three-year old child to the aged grandsire verging on a hundred, stylish, handsome young ladies, who daily promenade fashionable resorts; middle aged matrons; old maids, dressed up to appear young and gay; dandies, with their patent leathers, kid gloves, and inevitable walking sticks; the clergyman, merchant, lawyer, clerk, artisan and mechanic of all ages and stations, have a full supply of corns, bunions, bad nails, and other botherations of the feet, all of which are banished and cured by the use of Briggs' corn and bunion remedies, allevantor and curative. SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY.—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York against Jeremiah P. B. Dodge and others.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made in this action, on the 19th day of May, 1874, and duly entered in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster, on the 25th day of May 1874, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will expose for sale at public auction, at the Manston House, Union Avenue, in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, on Saturday, the 18th day of July, 1874, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, the following described premises, viz: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Esopus, formerly Northern Ward, Ulster County, State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Known and distinguished as the northeasterly part of Lot No. 7, one of the three Mile or River Lots, north division of the patent of New Paltz: Beginning on the southerly corner of Lot No. 8 at the Hudson River and runs thence along the south bounds of Lot No. 8, north sixty-two degrees and thirty minutes west, five chains and five links to a ranging stone marked with the figure "8" on the north side, continuing the same course one hundred and fifty-four chains sixty-five links to another stone marked with the figure 8 on the north side, thence south, five degrees thirty minutes east, eight chains sixty links to a stake and stones on the west side of a brook, thence south sixty-two degrees three minutes east about one hundred and fifty-five chains to a stake and stones in a line with the two rangina stones across the lot, continuing the same course five chains, more or less, to the Hudson River aforesaid, and thence up and along the same about ten chains and fifty links to the place of beginning. Containing one hundred and twenty-nine acres of land, be the same more or less. Being the same premises conveyed to the

Kingston, Wednesday Morning, June 10.

Evidently to the special correspondent of the New York Times, who gives a description of the Faraday, an English steamer which has been laying a submarine telegraph cable from Faraday Cove in Nova Scotia to the Isle of Shoals, off Portsmouth, N. H., the ways of a ship are dark, but some sailor's tricks are not vain, for the correspondent is made to say, "that she may go forward and back with equal facility; she is, in marine phrase a "double-ender," with a rudder at either end and one in the centre." And pray of what use is the rudder in the centre, and what effect would its movements have on the vessel?

Considering the youth of the warm season, we must admit that the "god of storms" is coming on the stage with a tragical rush. It is rare to hear of such tremendous tempests with hail, thunder and lightning, to match at this time of year as swept over and upon Troy, Syracuse and Utica on Sunday. We are not sure that the clerk of the weather can be constitutionally impeached, although he does make very free with other people's comfort and property. Look out for the lightning-rod confidence men about this time; with their sweet smiles and their gilt-edged, patent protectors they do more harm than thunderbolts.

A Dr. Russel writes to the New York Times protesting against muzzling dogs with a view to prevent their biting people when they (the dogs) run mad and madly run. We cannot reproduce his argument, although we don't doubt it will convince everybody who owns a pet canine which he loves and believes in.—What we should like to know is what Dr. Russel means by saying that no muzzle has ever been invented which can be retained upon an unwilling dog without seriously obstructing its breathing and buccal transpiration. We can understand the "breathing" part of it, but what is "buccal transpiration?" If we had a dog with that attachment we should cut his tail off.

The suicide at Wilmington, Delaware, of a Mrs. Bradley, on account of domestic unhappiness, leads us to remark that a very large measure of crime, both against self and others, arises from the cause just mentioned. In a former editorial The Freeman pointed out the difference between English civilization and our own in respect of household exclusiveness. Here the doors of sacred homes are opened too easily and close acquaintances are formed too soon. It is our habit to push things and we brag of it. One of the adjectives under ban of reverence in this country is the word "slow." Whatever else we neglect or lose, we must "make time." Jones introduces Smith to Thompson as his "very particular friend," when he has not known him for a week. Women are made the centres of social circles more or less large, according to the plane of their life, soon after marriage; while to give and attend all sorts of social assemblages and possess many "intimate friends" of both sexes, crowds a young wife's career with temptations of which only the initiated know the force. The husband is proportionately free to pour out his admiring soul at many shrines, and it would be a miracle indeed if upon some one or more of them he did not leave an offering no longer his to give away. In simpler words, home, the spring of all genuine happiness in our aggregate life, is not guarded as it should be. We do not ask that American fathers and husbands should become jealous as the slippered master of a seraglio, but in a world where trouble so easily scales the castles best defended, it is worth while to trust our dearest things with nobody except ourselves; and to make sure that we do our utmost to render home so happy that none of its inmates sigh for forbidden fruit. The subject is worth our throwing out this hint; those who live in frequent fear can fill up the outline.

Slang.

Isn't it almost time for sensible people to begin to discourage the use of slang? If we once set ourselves seriously to thinking how extensive its prevalence really is and that it is actually damaging in its influence, we shall possibly be not a little surprised. Almost everybody is more or less slangy in his talk. From the grave and reverend seigniors on the bench and in the pulpit down to the street Arabs, pours the unintermitting stream of slang. About once a month a new phrase is set afloat by some unknown genius who has, perhaps, almost sacrificed his life in giving birth to it, and instantaneously it becomes current over the whole country. The large cities get hold of it first, as they do of all the trash vomited out upon the earth, and from them the new slang phrase soon makes its triumphant way to the lesser cities and towns in the direct course of travel. In a few days more the bucolic neighborhoods are repeating with native grins and rolling it as a savory morsel under their slow and cumbrous tongues. It has its day, like the dog in the proverb, and dies out at length only to make room for its certain successor. Young ladies and boarding school misses riot in slang; they are in respect of using it even worse than the vain male adolescent with his cane and strange oaths. Now, we hope not to be counted among the class whom Charles Reade speaks of as "prurient prudes;" for we do not feel any natural or cultivated affinity for them whatever. But we should like to say that when language is abused thought itself is correspondingly degraded; for words are the life-blood of the body of ideas. So, when the most solemn facts of our existence and experience are alluded to habitually in the lowest of words and phrases, the tendency cannot be otherwise than to demoralize the conceptions of those facts in the popular mind. Let us have fun when we innocently can and be witty if we have the gift, but, for a pitying Heaven's sake, spare us a deluge of verbal ditch-water drawn from which is the sewerage of fools.

Next Winter.

The assumption that we have a hard winter before us will be regarded by many as decidedly gratuitous, if not insulting. We are now not quite in the middle of the balmy, luscious month of June. Summer is a bride who has not yet aired the whole of her original trosseau; the foliage of the trees in forest and park has some increase still to make before the designs of its author are completely filled. Warm weather is still too much of a novelty and a luxury to be tedious or oppressive. All the world that can make the temporary change is conning its preliminary arrangements for its annual escape into the country for the torrid term. Watering-places are holding out to their patrons who are still gasping between the sun's rays from above and the reflection of them from the pitiless sidewalks an attractive bill of fresh inducements for the season. The heavy men of Wall street cross the ferry from their Brooklyn bed-rooms with the remark to each other said to have been quoted by the Plymouth preacher on a July forenoon in his church. "It's —— hot." Sun-umbrellas are popular with the managing mammas as they take their matutinal walk to market. Cremation is a tabooed topic; the graceless rascal who alludes to consuming fire, either as pertaining to this or the future world, is looked upon as the pitiable victim of an uncontrollable morbid impulse. Strawberries can be bought for a shilling a quart and ice cream is, as a western paper asserts, a "desirable beverage." Japanese fans lie around in heaps waiting for perspiring purchasers at six cents each. The churches on Sunday are exhibiting a "beggarly account of empty boxes," while eloquent pastors are quietly discussing the objective point of their intended fishing excursion. Shall it be for porgies, bass, pickerel or trout? that is the question; not, Is science in opposition to Revelation in the matter of the descent of man?

Now, in the midst of this cloud of witnesses testifying to the presence of summer on the earth, shall we be pardoned for daring to intimate that winter is nevertheless on its way? Daniel Webster quoted Dr. Watts to prove that a man's mortal hour could be legally extended over the whole period of his life, for, said the great lawyer, doth not the hymnist affirm,

"Soon as we draw our infant breath
The seeds of sin grow up for death?"

So winter is suggested by summer itself and the household need of coal for artificial fires is hinted at when the whole building where we live is thrown open—doors, windows and all—to catch a cooling capfull of vagrant wind. Therefore, he who is obliged to earn most of the wherewithall to buy winter supplies by his labor during the open months, is a simpleton to throw away his chances to do so for a whim or in a spasm of false independence—and this very thing thousands of working men appear determined to do. They ask higher wages than capitalists and contractors can afford to pay, and being refused stop work and lie about idle, or do worse, waiting for money to surrender to a pack of lazy fools. This it will never do—the condition of the money market is such just now as not to invite capital to take any risks which it is unable to see to the end of. Neither will contractors begin jobs which they cannot feel able to finish within a short time. As long as the continuance of labor is so unsettled no man will begin, let us say, the erection of a building and take the risks of having it on his hands in an incomplete state when frost shall set in. Now, let workingmen all over the country judge whether it is not manifestly to their advantage to work for fifty cents less per day when by so doing they can have work until the first of December, rather than to compel a contractor to pay an inordinate rate for labor when it is sure to throw both him and his employees out of business by midsummer? Poverty is proverbially improvident, especially when joined with ignorance, but if the laboring man who happens to read these words of ours will reflect that half a loaf is better than no bread and that the interests of employers and employed are radically identical we shall feel repaid for writing them. And let every worker remember that if he does not lay aside his own nonsensical theories of what ought to be the relations of things to each other and accept what he can get to do at the prices capital can afford to pay, he will find next winter the bitterest he has ever known.

REGULAR DISPATCHES TO DAILY FREEMAN

FOREIGN.

SPAIN.

Latest from the Seat of War.

MADRID, June 9.—Advices from the scene of war in the north state that the Carlist forces are concentrating in intrenched positions about Puerto la Reina, a town in the province of Navarre, thirteen miles southwest of Pamplona. The main body of the republican army is still at Logrona. The weather is stormy, which delays battle. The Carlist diversion towards Aragon was frustrated by the republicans.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Thunderer on the Spanish Question.

LONDON, June 9.—The Times this morning, in an editorial commenting on the communication recently sent to various powers by the Spanish government, says: "It is hinted that the time approaches when the Spanish government must be received within the pale of nations on terms of equality. If it be proved that the Carlist Generals are incapable of keeping the enemy at bay in Biscay and Navarre the insurrection is likely to collapse. The limits of Carlist strength on Carlist ground are now pretty well defined, and when the national army resumes operations it is not likely to encounter effectual resistance. These more cheerful prospects justify the Spanish government in making an appeal to the public opinion of the world, and should Serrano maintain himself and constitute a stable de facto government we know of no reason why it should not be recognized as well as MacMahon's."

CUBA.

The Havanese Find it Difficult to Obtain Specie.

HAVANA, June 9th, 1874.—The exchange offices are closed to-day. The proprietors of some of them have given up business and returned their licenses. The closing of these offices causes much inconvenience to the public, as there are now no places at which to buy specie in small sums to pay postage and tolls.

TENNESSEE.

Denial from the Colored People.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 9.—The colored people held a mass meeting last night at which speeches were made by leading colored men denying that there was any intention on the part of the colored people to get up a riot, and accusing a couple of newspapers of attempting to create strife between two races for political effect. Resolutions were adopted to the same effect.

A Negro Shoots and Kills His Daughter.

A special dispatch to the Appeal from Sardis, Miss., says that a negro named Mose Gregory, living near there, becoming incensed at his wife, attempted to shoot her and shot his daughter Emma, 13 years of age, and killed her. On being arrest he admitted the killing, and said that he tried to kill his wife and would kill her yet.

HEAVY SUIT AGAINST RAILROADS.

960,000 Acres of Land Valued at $5,000,000 Involved.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—In the great land case between settlers on the Osage ceded lands in Kansas and Missouri and the Kansas & Texas and Leavenworth, Lawrence & Galf Railroads was argued yesterday before Judges Miller and Dillon in the United States Circuit Court at Leavenworth. Title to 960,000 acres of land, valued at $5,000,000, and the homes of 20,000 settlers are involved. Argument will be continued to-day and a decision rendered before the court adjourns.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL.

Movements of the Noble Red Man.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Information has been received at the army headquarters of a movement on the part of Comanche and Cheyenne Indians against the whites in general and the people of Texas particularly. They evince a determination to move against the Fort Sill reservation and agency, and thence on a raid into Texas. The information comes from George Fox, interpreter for the Kiowas, and is forwarded by the commanding officer at Fort Sill. Fox says there will be no Kiowas on the war-path this summer.

THE WEATHER.

To-Day's Probabilities.

For the New England and the northern portion of the Middle States and the lower lake region light rains and partly cloudy weather will prevail, with north and west winds, a slight fall in temperature and rising barometer.

METROPOLITAN NEWS.

The Coming Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, June 9.—Fifteen yachts have entered for the yacht club race on Thursday.

Erie Railway Affairs.

The investigation by accountants into the affairs of the Erie Railway continues, but no report has yet been made. The broad gauge track is to be remodeled to a narrow gauge immediately.

The Penalty for Assaulting a Carpet.

J. J. Roberts was shot through the body by a stray pistol bullet yesterday while beating a carpet in a lot near his house uptown. He will probably die. It is not known who fired the shot.

Down on Cheap Labor.

About 8 o'clock this morning an affray took place between the laborers on strike and the Italians who are employed on new buildings on Broadway between Fifty-first and Fifty-second streets. The Italians were stoned by the laborers and two of the former dangerously injured. They were taken to the Twenty-second Precinct station-house, and though the Coroner was sent for by order of the police surgeon, the wounded men were sent home by the police, who wished the matter to be hushed up. No account of the affray was telegraphed to police headquarters until late in the day.

Brooklyn's Charity Commissioners.

The jury this afternoon brought in a verdict of guilty against Messrs. Powell, Ferguson and Wells, Charity Commissioners of Brooklyn; Cunningham was acquitted. The charge against them was malfeasance in office and the verdict specified guilty in neglecting to advertise according to law and of conspiracy in general. Tracy moved for an arrest of judgment. His argument will be heard Friday next. The convicted Commissioners have meanwhile been released on $5,000 bail.

Transportation.

At a meeting of the Directors of the New York Cheap Transportation Association, held this afternoon, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That a permanent department or bureau with sufficient powers should without delay be provided by Congress for the purpose of obtaining, preserving and circulating information relative to the subject of transportation.

Copies of the resolution were ordered to be transmitted to members of Congress.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Court of Appeals Decision in a Ring Suit.

ALBANY, June 9.—Among the decisions handed down in the Court of Appeals to-day was one affirming the judgment with costs in the case of The People of the State of New York, appellants, vs. James H. Ingersoll, impleaded with William M. Tweed, Elbert A. Woodward and Andrew J. Garvey, respondents. The appeal presented the question of what public corporate entity should be the plaintiff in an action to recover money fraudulently obtained by means of an undue and unadvised exercise of public authority which wrought no immediate loss to any individual, or judicially recognizable entity not involved in any possibility of a future injury except to such persons as might at a future period indicated by law belong to the class of local tax-payers. The prevailing opinion handed down to-day is written by Judge Allen and Judges Grover, Folger, Andrews and Johnson concur. Judge Rapello writes a dissenting opinion, in which Chief Justice Church concurs. The decision is that the state as such is not concerned in the alleged grievances, and therefore, it not being entitled to any judicial remedy, action ought to have been brought in the name of the county. The Legislature at its last session passed a law transferring all the property of the county to the city, so that in continuance of suit the City of New York will have to be substituted for the State of New York.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Sumner Memorial Services.

BOSTON, June 9.—The Massachusetts Legislature devoted the day to memorial services of Chas. Sumner. George William Curtis delivered the address and a poem by John G. Whittier was read.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Calendar for To-day.

ALBANY, June 9.—Court of Appeals calendar for June 10th: Nos. 79, 80, 81, 28, 84, 86, 87, 69.

THE BOWDOIN STUDENTS.

They Answer to the Bugle Call.

BRUNSWICK, Me., June 9.—Nearly all the suspended students have renewed their obligation of obedience to college laws and have resumed their studies. This afternoon, at the usual hour for drill, they answered to the call of the bugle and the military exercises were conducted with full ranks.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 9.

The Conference Committee report on the army appropriation bill was agreed to.

The Senate then resumed discussion of the moiety bill, and the amendments made in Committee of the Whole were agreed to, with the exception of the twenty-ninth section, which Mr. CONKLING moved to amend by striking out the words "of the United States," inserted on motion of Mr. Wadleigh. Upon this motion the yeas and nays were called for, and resulted in 9 yeas and 22 nays —no quorum voting.

At 7:45 P. M. the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. SEVER of Virginia asked leave to offer a resolution directing the Attorney General to institute a full and thorough judicial investigation into the character of all allowances paid at the Treasury Department, as well as of claims still due for expenditures in the Marshal's office of the Western District of Arkansas since the first of July, 1870, and to report the result thereof to the House on the first of May, next session.

Mr. HYNES of Arkansas objected unless he was permitted to offer an amendment that no part of the claims shall be paid until the department has been satisfied of their correctness.

Mr. SEVER objected to that on the ground that it would permit the department to be the ultimate judge in the matter, so the resolution was not received.

Mr. SPEER of Pennsylvania, member of the Committee on Contingent Expenses in the Department of Justice, addressed the House on the subject of enormous expenditure in the Western Judicial District of Arkansas. A summary of the committee's report on the subject was embraced in last Saturday's House proceedings. He spoke of the fudge of that district as a person by the name of Story, from Wisconsin, who had reasoned in that position to mock the administration of justice, and who, if not personally dishonest—and he believed he was—had been during his whole term of office the friend and bosom companion of rascals and thieves. He had made an analysis of expenditures in that district, from which he discovered that outside of the large amount paid to witnesses and jurors, the Marshal and his deputies and clerks had received in three years the enormous sum of $482,101.

Mr. CESSNA, of Pennsylvania, member of the Judiciary Committee, which has been investigating the same matter in connection with the proposed impeachment of Judge Story, stated that in fourteen months and twenty days the Marshal's office of that district had cost the government a little over $403,000.

Mr. SPEER, in further course of his remarks, said that the costs of the court for its actual sessions were $2,500 daily, and the accounts bore irradicable marks of the boldest and most audacious frauds. He recounted the history of the Western District of Arkansas, which had started, he said, with a corrupt Judge—a Judge who was in the habit of admitting to bail prisoners tried and convicted of capital offences and letting them go free forever afterward, a Judge who was shown to have bought certificates issued for the pay of jurors and witnesses at a discount of forty or fifty or sixty cents on the dollar, a Judge who was charged with having received a bribe of $25,000 for admitting a nolle prosequi to be entered in a certain case, a Judge whose records were marred and interlined and erased and confused, a Judge who had approved one of the Marshal's vouchers for $20,000 in blank, a Judge who had allowed the government to be pundered of hundreds of thousands of dollars. It was, however, but justice to that Judge to say that in response to the committee's invitation he had appeared before it and made a statement, but that statement was tame and unsatisfactory—it was not a statement of a man conscious of his official and personal integrity, not the statement of a man who felt keenly the injustice done him by such charges, but the statement of a cringing, shrinking, cowardly, corrupt man. The next step in the frauds was an infamous and corrupt Marshal named William A. Britton, and the means adopted were the getting of ficticious lists of Deputy Marshals and making out bills in such names, also the buying up of vouchers for jurors, witnesses and deputies at twenty, thirty and forty cents on the dollar, and in some instances cartloads of them could be got at two bits on the dollar, which vouchers were afterwards paid in full at the Treasury Department. He stated that suspicion having been aroused in Washington, an investigation by the Grand Jury was ordered and it was arranged by Britton and the District Attorney, also a party to the frauds, that a favorable report should be made, and so the bills were paid and Britton, who had been removed, was reinstated by the President in the absence of the Attorney General, but the Attorney General had afterwards gone before the Senate and had the appointment of Britton rejected. But disposing of Britton, a worse man was appointed in the person of Logan H. Roots, who immediately organized a national bank at Fort Smith, became owner of three-fifths of the stock and continued to peddle out by the cartload certificates for pay of witnesses, jurors and Deputy Marshals. Roots then sent these vouchers for payment to his own bank to the tune of hundreds of thousands of dollars, and they were paid at an enormous discount. Speer also referred to the fact that on one occasion when vouchers of Britton's to the amount of $40,000 or $50,000 were pending before one of the auditing officers in the Department of Justice, Britton picked up a sort of test official and gave him a clerkship in Arkansas with a salary of $2,500 a year, and after that the vouchers were allowed. Figures which Speer presented in the course of his speech showed that the expenses of that district for 1871–2–3 were $743,023, of which sum $14,791 was paid to grand jurors, $32,014 to petit jurors and $114,117 to witnesses, leaving $582,101 for Marshals, deputies and clerks. Taking the year 1872, when the expenses of that district, with a population of less than 300,000, were $321,653, he said that they exceeded like expenses for the same year of all the New England States, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio, with a population often and a half millions. At the close of Mr. Speer's speech the objection to the resolution was withdrawn and it was adopted.

The House then took up the Geneva award bill, to which Mr. Poland of Vt., offered a substitute.

Mr. BUTLER of Mass. addressed the House in explanation and in advocacy of the substitute presented by himself from the Judiciary Committee referring to the proposition to pay insurance companies. He said that there was an active lobby at work in favor of these insurers and underwriters, who had received two dollars for every dollar they lost. Rather than let any of the money go to them he thought it had better go to make jetties in the mouth of the Mississippi River, levees on its banks, and to clear out mud banks in a lake anywhere that a muskrat can swim. In conclusion, he warned the House against countenancing an unseemly struggle for this money, and said the effect of such a struggle would be to place the money in the position of the French spoliation claims, and that it would not be decided in this generation.

Mr. TREMAINE of New York, opposed Butler's substitute. In the course of his speech he asserted that the bill never could have been reported at all unless mutual insurance companies had been provided for in it, and yet the first act of the Chairman who had the bill in charge was to admit an amendment to strike out that provision.

Mr. FRYE of Maine asserted that the committee had been deliberately cheated into admitting that provision.

Mr. TREMAIN declared indignantly, that he hurled back on the champions of war the premium claims and the assertion that the committee had been cheated into admitting that provision—an assertion totally unfounded in fact. Unless it had been put in the bill the bill could never have been reported.

Mr. WOODFORD of New York proposed to have the Geneva award distributed by the courts, before whom claimants must prove their claims.

Other members discussed the bill until 5 o'clock, when the House took a recess till 7:30, the evening session to be for general discussion. Debate on the Geneva bill is to be continued to-morrow till 3 o'clock, when the previous question is to be considered, seconded and after a closing speech by Butler a vote is to be taken.

EVENING SESSION.

The House evening session was almost entirely given up to speeches on general subjects.

Mr. WILSON of Indiana, from the Joint Select Committee on the District Investigation, reported a bill to re-organize the District government. Ordered to be printed and re-committed.

CURRENT TOPICS.

—Jones of Nevada is credited with the authorship of Grant's memorandum.

—Schurz is to go to the House if he can't get back to the Senate. Well, the House needs brains.

—Everybody will be glad to learn that Treasurer Spinner's resignation was not accepted. We wouldn't recognize a greenback without that signature.

—Now that Sawyer is out of a job, it is proposed to send him out as an Indian Commissioner. Is this the way we are going to try the gentle peace policy with our wards?

—Has any one seen anything of a stray Earl? The English newspapers report one missing, although they do not name him. Perhaps he's been captured by some enterprising Yankee girl.

—Is Gen. Butler's remark that the government can take a man's shirt off his back any explanation why the administration proposes to take Schurz out of the Senate?

—The colored cadet Smith, of whom we have heard before, we believe, will fail, 'tis said, and will have to leave West Point. Perhaps it's all right, but isn't it possible the Pointers have designedly caused this failure?

—The Tribune is quite effervescing in its praise of the President for his financial views. It says: "No bolder, more comprehensive, more practical, or more effective plan of resumption has yet seen the light in this country."

—Another delusion gone. Dr. Livingstone's papers declare the lion to be a very cowardly beast—that he runs away with his tail between his legs at the slightest alarm. This knocks the spots out of lots of romance and will involve the change of some fellows' titles.

—The winter in Nevada has been fearful. Many graziers have lost all the cattle they possessed, and nearly all have lost a large per centage of their stock. In Honey Lake Valley hay sold for $60 per ton, and at one time for $130. Cattle are still dying there, and a person while riding through the valley is hardly ever out of sight of their carcases.

—Thurlow Weed has planted six acres of corn, this year, with his own hands. It must be said of Thurlow that he has spent pretty nearly his whole life planting and sowing for other men to reap. He might have made millions—he is content with a moderate fortune. He has trained some men of brains to fill roles in American history to which they could never have attained without him, and he has taken some little men by the trousers and "boosted" them into positions, which they have filled pretty much as Mr. Titmouse filled his seat in Parliament. We hope he will live to gather that corn himself.—Brooklyn Argus.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—The first locomotive and train of passenger cars passed over the St. Louis bridge on Tuesday.

—Monday afternoon at Stanton shaft, of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co., James Williams, watchman, was descending the shaft when an explosion of gas occurred. He was thrown to the bottom, a distance of 600 feet. There is twenty-five feet of water in the shaft and his body has not as yet been recovered.

—The sessions of the American Institute of Homeopathy began at Niagara Falls Tuesday Dr. J. J. Youlin, President, in the opening address said France has 4,000 Homeopathic practitioners and numerous journals, hospitals and dispensaries. Germany has 500 practitioners, Great Britain 400 and Italy 200, while in the United States there are nearly 6,000 practitioners. About 300 members are already present.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—The Pope is very decided on universal suffrage. He calls it "a horrible wound which afflicts human society."

—Specials represent great dissatisfaction among inflationists with the attitude of the President on the financial question, and it is considered doubtful whether Congress can agree upon any bill that the President will sign. The conference committee will probably present a bill, embracing as far as practicable the President's views as to time of redemption of legal tenders. In conversation the President says that the Republican party as well as himself is committed to the policy of bringing about specie payments at the earliest possible day, and they could not afford to disregard these pledges.

Sold by J. D. & I. L. Du Bois, Gardiner, and Tuthill.

Briggs.

PILES.—It's all very well for those not troubled to think it is nothing to have Piles; for this reason, the unfortunate sufferer gets very little sympathy; the agony of Tophet is not or cannot be much worse than the torture endured by millions who are troubled with internal, bleeding, external and itching piles. Glad tidings for the sufferer. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure. Sold by the Hudson River Cement Company, East Kingston.

Briggs.

CORNS.—It is beyond question that corns, bunions, bad nails, sore insteps, &c., torment more people than any other affliction. They are as unnecessary as dishonest politicians, yet they continue their obnoxious career, defying all attempts to get rid of them, until the application of Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies. Allevantor and Curative, which eradicates Corns, banishes Bunions, cures ingrowing nails, and other ailments of the feet. Sold by J. H. VanWagonen, Creek Locks.

Briggs.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the sufferings from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bone, the bottoms of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies Allevantor and Curative, will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by Thomas C. Harnden, Ailigerville.

Briggs.

There are only a few torments worse than corns, such as mischief making neighbors, scolding wives, lazy, drunken husbands, howling dogs and squalling cats under your window, the cramp of the butcher, the baker, the grocer, the milkman and the landlord, when you haven't a cent to pay. If troubled with corns, bunions, bad nails, or other pedal impediments, banish them with Briggs' Allevantor and Curative, and be happy. Sold by druggists. By mail 50c. Dr. J. BRIGGS & Co., Newark, N. J. Sold by J. H. Snyder, High Falls.

Briggs.

CATARRH.—If your head, nose and throat are filled with a burdensome mass of mucus, either dry or moist, thin or thick, white or yellow, and your eyes swollen and heavy, your head feeling unusually large, with a constant dull, heavy pain all through it, resulting from Catarrh, use Dr. J. Briggs' Allevantor. The mucus will be immediately discharged from the head nose and throat; the eyes brighten and sparkle with delight; the head feels natural again; all pain has fled, and life is once more desirable. Sold by Alfred Perrine, Shawangunk.

Briggs.

LISTEN.—What do you hear? A cough? What does it indicate? Perhaps a tickle in the throat, perhaps bronchitis; it may be a recent cold; it may be an effort of nature to clear the bronchia; it may be the deep hollow cough, boon companion of that terrible monster, consumption; in either case the free use of Briggs Throat and Lung Healer, as directed, will banish all kinds of cough, and cure bronchitis certain, and all the early symptoms of consumption. Briggs' Remedies. Sold by M. J. De Witt, Alligerville.

Briggs.

How can any person listen to a sermon delivered in eloquent style by the favorite minister, or to a lecture by the most popular speaker, or enjoy the drama, comedy, opera, or the dance, when the agonies of Tophet are going on inside of the boot? It is simply impossible to enjoy any of these pleasures, eat, drink, or sleep in peace when corns are twinging, bunions are throbbing, and ingrowing nails are distressing you beyond endurance. Use Dr. Briggs' corn and bunion remedies and be happy. Sold by Miss Sarah E. Storms, Modena.

Briggs.

Look! Behold! There goes a poor, sad, discouraged mortal, dragging out a miserable existence. See! he stops. Something attracts his attention. He is reading the advertisement of Briggs' Pile remedies, for the positive cure of internal, bleeding, external and itching piles. He smiles, turns away, and with great animation hastens to the nearest drug store, procures a box, seeks his home, is not seen on the street for a week. When he comes forth for another walk, he looks cheerful and happy, and tells every one he meets 'tis found, Briggs' pile remedies are a sure cure for piles. Sold by Dr. Luther LeFever, Modena.

SUPREME COURT, ULSTER COUNTY.—The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York against Jeremiah P. B. Dodge and others.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale made in this action, on the 19th day of May, 1874, and duly entered in the office of the clerk of the County of Ulster, on the 25th day of May 1874, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will expose for sale at public auction, at the Mansion House, Union Avenue, in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, on Saturday, the 18th day of July, 1874, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day, the following described premises, viz: All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land situated in the Town of Esopus, formerly New Paltz, Ulster County, State of New York, and bounded and described, as follows: Known and distinguished as the northeasterly part of Lot No. 7, One of the Three Mile or River Lots, north division of the patent of New Paltz: Beginning on the southerly corner of Lot No. 8 at the Hudson River and runs thence along the south bounds of Lot No. 8, north sixty-two degrees and thirty minutes west, five chains and five links to a ranging stone marked with the figure "8" on the north side, continuing the same course one hundred and fifty-four chains ninty-five links to another stone marked with the figure 8 on the north side, thence south, five degrees thirty minutes east, eight chains sixty links to a stake and stones on the west side of a brook, thence south sixty-two degrees three minutes east about one hundred and fifty-five chains to a stake and stones in a line with the two ranging stones across the lot, continuing the same course five chains, more or less, to the Hudson River aforesaid, and thence up and along the same about ten chains and fifty links to the place of beginning. Containing one hundred and twenty-nine acres of land, be the same more or less, being the same premises conveyed to the said Jeremiah P. B. Dodge by deed of Herman L. Roy, dated December 26th, 1867, Recorded in Ulster County Clerk's office, Liber 147 of deeds, page 676.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

CITY NOTES.

—J. & J. McCausland expect to launch another steam canal boat from their yard at Burgess' Hook on Thursday.

—On Tuesday 73 canal boats laden with 9,324 tons of coal reached tide water through the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

—The intense rolliness of the water in the creek is caused by the rise of the Lackawaxen, which rose seven feet above low water mark after the storm on Sunday.

—The shower on Tuesday afternoon, accompanied as it was by thunder and lightning, cooled the atmosphere and left the temperature most delightful.

—On Tuesday morning two women landed from the ferry-boat Lark and walking into the ferry-house inquired when "the next hand car left for Kingston?" She finally consented to take a horse car.

—"How's business with you?" asked one down-town merchant of another on Tuesday. "Dull, fearfully dull," was the reply. "The fact is nobody buys anything just now but provisions and whiskey—the bare necessities of life, as it were."

—An innocent youth not much acquainted with naval architecture while inspecting the luxurious cabin appointments of the Dyberry, on Monday, inquired of Captain Startup, "Where's the cellar of this boat, anyhow." The captain didn't drown him, we are told.

—The occasion of the excursion party leaving this city for the trip up the canal on the Dyberry on Tuesday, was made quite a gala day by the chaps in the office. The Professor bent a new coat in honor of the event, the new flag was displayed over the office building, and Rodie nearly broke his neck by looking up to admire the new coat and flag.

—A degree of extravagance has broken out out among the boatmen, and the gay and festive mule's ears are now ornamented with bright blue hoods, from the elongated ends of which flutter tassels of bright color. The flies that ordinarily do a heavy business on the line of the canal are very much demoralized by these little vanities.

—That negro row on Flatbush avenue seems to provoke a great deal of discussion and comment as to who sold the whiskey which was the cause of it. We have been visited by a party of Wiltwyck gentlemen who informed us that the negroes procured the liquor at a notorious resort kept by a German, and popularly known as "the nigger shebang," and furthermore that the proprietor of this place induces the negroes to drink and thus cause disturbance and scandal to the neighborhood.

Excitement Among the Rum Sellers.

There was considerable excitement around the Court House Tuesday afternoon because of a strong movement to indict several Marlborough hotel keepers, who have been selling liquor without license. It will no doubt be made extremely hot for them, as well as for many others in this county.

The Ellenville Scare.

The Ellenville Press very earnestly desires The Freeman to contradict the statement that the Cape Pond dam was unsafe. We have already stated that the dam has been pronounced safe by the D. & H. Canal officers. Our original statement was not that the dam was unsafe, but that the people of Ellenville were considerably worked up on the subject; and this seems perfectly justified by the fact that it has taken a half-dozen or so lengthy communications in the village papers to calm them down, until at last Dominie Beutley has to give the finishing touch.

False Report.

The Newburgh Journal says when the steamer Mary Powell was off New Windsor Monday morning she was observed to stop, but soon went on again, leaving persons on the dock here to surmise the reason for her so doing, if they cared to. The same thing was noticed by parties at the Cornwall Landing, and on her arrival there the report gained currency that a passenger sitting on the rail had lost his balance, fell overboard, and was left to his fate, the steamer being too far away to render him assistance. On receipt of this report at the Journal office, a dispatch was sent to Captain Anderson, which elicited this reply:—

NEW YORK, June 8.—To Newburgh Journal:—No one lost overboard that we know of.
J. H. ANDERSON.

Scene on the Mary Powell.

A day or two ago two prominent Newburgh lawyers, men of standing and acknowledged worth, got on board of the Mary Powell to go to New York. They took seats on the forward deck, enjoying the delightful breeze till Cornwall was reached. Then a sombre dressed, middle-aged lady got on board, who proved to be a tract distributor. Walking up to the two lawyers she handed them a tract entitled "Two Thieves." The lawyer receiving it glanced at the head, showed it to the other then crumpled it up and threw it overboard. When they separated one remarked, "Now if we had been Judge George and Fenton I shouldn't have thought anything about it, but ——— Well, let's go and take a drink!"—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

New Street Cars.

Three of the six new cars for the horse railroad arrived from the car works of John Stephenson in New York, by the steamer Marshall, and the other three by the steamer A. E. Valentine, and were landed on Tuesday afternoon. They will be put in use as soon as the turn-table at the lower end of the track and the curve at the upper end can be got in readiness. They are nicely gotten up, painted a light yellow, and are provided with J. B. S. Sauson's patent fare-boxes, which dispenses with the services of a conductor. They are exactly like the cars on the street railroad in Poughkeepsie, and will be drawn by two horses, thus dispensing with an extra horse up the long hill on Union avenue.

Another Dose of Casteria.

On Tuesday two men, named John Robb and McGee, were in the notorious saloon of Mrs. Castor, on Canal street, and became very much intoxicated and very demonstrative, and finally wound up their orgies by smashing things generally, breaking the windows of the saloon and doing other damage. They then started for the Opera House, Robb indicating his intention of getting a drink there. The Opera House door was locked and Rabb smashed it in, but had only just entered when Ab. Terpenning, the bar keeper, came in and very unceremoniously hustled the bacchanalian Robb down stairs, where they had a pretty lively tussle, in which Ab. gave Robb a pretty thorough shaking up. We were informed that Appleton, the proprietor of the Opera House, after vainly searching for a Constable, started for the Sheriff to secure Robb's arrest, which was effected about nine o'clock last night.

The Storm in Delaware County.

We find the following particulars of damage done by the recent storm in the Stamford Mirror of the 9th inst.:

Last Sunday night we were visited by a very severe thunder and rain storm, accompanied by plenty of wind and hail, the equal of which has not been known in many years. The rain fell in torrents, flooding roads and fields, doing great damage. In this village the dam of Tanner's plaster mill was badly injured and several bridges carried off. In Harpersfield nearly all the bridges were destroyed, as also between Stamford and Hobart. At Hobart the river was some two feet higher than ever known before. The high wall near Sharpe's store was washed away, as also a large quantity of hoops and staves of W. H. Beardsley. Considerable damage was done to Robinson's foundry, John G. Hanford's farm, C. A. Foote's farm, etc.

The railroad bridge near Frisbee's was injured so that the express train was detained two hours. The mail came up yesterday on a hand-car.

Monday morning's mail stage for Oneonta made out to reach S. H. Stevens' and had to return.

The barn of Mike Gray of South Gilboa was struck by lightning and one end badly damaged.

Lightning paid its regards to a hay barn of Mr. George Grant, in the township, by knocking out both ends.

At Hobart the destruction has been quite large. W. H. Beardsley, W. M. Miller and John Robinson lose largely. The water was never known to be as high. The shop of W. S. Foote had eight inches of water above the floor. The breaking away of Tanner's dam probably was one cause of such a sudden flood.

At Moresville the water was knee-deep in front of the hotel. Gardens and fences were damaged. Considerable damage was done at Gleason's—bridge dug out.

Mr. Rose, residing about three miles from Gilboa, had a $200 horse killed by lightning on Sunday afternoon.

The barn of Rudolph Hamma, in Roxbary, was struck by lightning and burned. It contained about two tons of hay.

Every bridge between Gilboa and Jefferson is reported washed away.

Three mills were carried off on the Conesville stream.

Gales Clark of Conesville had his house demolished and was drowned in an apple tree—his wife was saved.

Clay Hill is as badly damaged as it was four years ago last October.

On the Plattekill, Bliss' grist mill dam was taken off; De Silva saw mill totally carried away; also, the old Street mill.

At Prattsville it is reported that a number of buildings were carried away by the high water, among them Mr. Searles' building. A Searles girl was drowned. L. K. Howard's premises were torn to pieces. Becker's barns, at the lower end of the village, were carried off by the flood from Huntersfield Creek. The water was four feet higher than it was four years ago. The bridge on the Lexington road, two miles above Big Rock, was carried off, and report has it that all the bridges from the top of the mountain to Big Rock have been swept away.

The course of the storm seems to have been from Oneonta, via Stamford and Prattsville, to Windham, and from three to four miles wide.

COUNTY COURT AND COURT OF SESSIONS.

Judge William Lawton, Presiding.

On Tuesday morning the calendar was run down to No. 121 in short order, and some fifty cases were passed. In No. 35 the complaint was dismissed. No. 74, John W. Lasher and Henry W. Turck agst. Henry Crouse, was tried. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant. The action was brought for the purchase price on the sale of a horse by plaintiffs to defendant, July 16th, 1872, for $30. Judgment was ordered for the plaintiffs. The attorneys were F. L. Westbrook for plaintiffs and J. F. Bookstaver for defendant.

No. 121, John Hutton, Jr., agst. Matilda E. Schepmoes, was then tried. The attorneys are G. R. Adams for the plaintiff and A. J. Mellon for the defendant. The plaintiff claims he sold a house and lot in Flatbush to defendant the 29th of March, 1871, for $1,000. The purchase price had been paid all but $500, with $92 interest, for which amount the plaintiff demands judgment. The defendant claims that she cannot read or write, and that plaintiff procured the signing of the contract by fraud. The Judge ordered a verdict for plaintiff.

The next case tried was No. 44, John P. Brown agst. Baltchazzar Schwalbach. The attorneys were D. W. Sparling for plaintiff and E. A. Durham for defendant. This is an action for assault and battery. The defendant claims that on the 10th of last September he was sitting in the bar-room at Staudacher's, in the lower part of the city, when Schwalbach came in and without a word of warning struck him on the nose, making it bleed, for which he claims damage to the amount of $50 for the plaintiff.

No. 109, Wendell Wright vs. Henry Delamater and Edward B. Meyer, was then tried. The attorneys are F. L. Westbook for plaintiff, Henry Griffith for defendants, A. T. Clearwater of counselfor defendants. The plaintiff claims that on the 10th of May, 1871, plaintiff entered into a contract with defendants to purchase the factory and other property in Shandaken then owned by defendants and used to manufacture spring bottoms for beds. Plaintiff was to pay them net cost for said property at a certain day, when defendants were to furnish bills of the net value of said property, and swear to the same. On the day named defendants did not furnish the vouchers, but said they would furnish them in a few days. Plaintiff then paid the amount, but the vouchers were never furnished and defendants finally refused to furnish them. Plaintiff further claims the defendants had overcharged him in the sum of $200 above the actual cost or value of the property. The defendants claim the accounts are all correct, and that they furnished all the vouchers of such accounts. They did not swear to such vouchers because plaintiff said he did not require it.

The court adjourned before this case was finished, until morning.

A Supposed Stolen Horse.

A stranger arrived at Vandemark's Hotel in Phoenicia on Monday evening last, leading a sorrel mare, and said he was traveling on foot above Mount Pleasant when the animal he was leading passed him on the road, running away with a buggy wagon attached to it. Near James Simpson's, not far from Phoenicia, he overtook the horse and buggy, the horse having fallen and being entangled in the harness it could not rise until he assisted it, which he did, and forthwith brought it to the first hotel that he could find, which was Vandemark's. The animal was stabled and taken care of while the man went to bed, and on Tuesday morning he said he would go for the buggy and draw it to the hotel. He left and has failed to return, and our informant, who came from Phoenicia on Tuesday, says it is the prevailing opinion of the people in that place that the stranger has stolen the animal from some person's barn, and becoming frightened at what he had done concocted the above story to get the mare in the possession of some one else. No buggy has been found in the neighborhood.

—Last year there were over 2,200 bills introduced in each branch of the Legislature—this year there were less than 500 in the House and less than 400 in the Senate. This is owing to the good effect of the new Constitution.—Honesdale Citizen.

SAUGERTIES.

—Boots Van Steenburgh is getting to be a public nuisance.

—The creeks are falling about as rapidly as they rose. No further damage was done that we have heard of.

—"Mine" says hail-stones fell over "there" Sunday night as large as croquet balls. Draw it mildly, "Mine;" but doesn't that sound just like an insurance agent?

—Mr. Turck, our accommodating livery man, says he had two applicants for one horse rigs, by mountaineers, for the Fourth of July. He thinks they are bound to be on time.

—Doctors Henry Wygant & Son are now established in their new and handsome office in Whitaker's building, where they are prepared to fill cavities, put in new and reliable or extract refractory teeth in the very best manner.

—Snyder's steam flag-ship still wends her weary way between this place and Tivoli. The Commodore has returned from the cares and wrangles of public life—has cast aside the famous steel-pen coat, yellow necktie, and lavender kids, to don his navy blue and enjoy in peace and prosperity the honors which honesty, integrity and sobriety always bring in their train. The next in command is our happy old friend Charlie, the engineer, whose manipulations upon the starting-bar are unequaled, and whose ability to scoop in the little quarters or cut the "pigeon wing" none dare dispute. The man at the helm is the oldest in Snyder's service; nothing ruffles the calm which mantles his brow; troubles glide from his mind like the slippery eel from the hand of the experienced fisherman, unless it is an occasional attack of the Jersey fever—then he invests in a paper collar, dyes his moustache, airs his Sunday-go-to-meetings and takes the first train down for the land of the mosquito and the home of his "Lucinda."

—Captain Wm. Milligan, commonly known here as "Yankee Bill," of the canal boat Conscript, was sitting in the cabin of his craft last Sunday evening, reading Saturday's Freeman and congratulating himself on being in such a safe harbor during such a severe storm, when bang! bang! bang! down the stove-pipe came a lot of stones. Supposing it was a lot of dockrats up to the deviltry, he yelled out, "Now, I know ivery mother's son of yees, and if yees don't sthop I'll have ivery one of yees up before Sam?" But the fear of being brought before that august personage had, singularly enough, no effect on this element. The few had increased to a shower on the cabin, and down the stove-pipe they came. The captain could stand it no longer; forbearance had ceased to be a virtue. Catching up a three-pronged stool and an "illegantly" framed picture of the Air Line's crew in the "ghost scene," he sallied forth with vengeance in one eye and his heart in the sole of his boots, only to be greeted with a shower of hail stones, from which he retired completely nonplused.

VICINITY.

—Delhi had 14 feet 5 inches of snow last winter.

—Binghamton has sold its stock in the Albany & Susquehanna Railroad for $45,580.

—Middletown is happy because Camilla Urso is coming there next fall.

—Temperance informers are at work in Troy on Sundays.

—D. C. Sharpe will commence running his four horse coaches between Moresville and Husonville on Tuesday.

—The Erie laborers are anxiously looking for the coming of the paymaster. He is two months behind time.

—The steam canal boat City of Buffalo, built in this city by J. & J. McCausland, is now receiving its engine and boiler at the Fishkill Landing Machine Works.

—There are 1,029 boats freighting coal on the Delaware & Hudson Canal, giving employment to 3,000 men and boys and 2,000 horses and mules.

—A merchant doing business not a hundred miles from Liberty has a placard in his show window inscribed, "——— ——— owes this store $—— for tea, coffee, rice and farming utensils, and won't pay.

—There are now lading at the Newburgh wharves an English ship and a Norwegian bark—and that city now desires to be made a port of entry and have the palatial structure on its magnificent steamboat dock turned into a Custom House.

—The Ellenville Journal learns that the farmer, Mr. Rosenerans, who signalled a train recently at Sandburgh, where a rock had rolled upon the track, has received $200 from the company as a reward for his services. The reward is well deserved, for the man saved the company from the loss of many thousand dollars, besides a great many lives.

Another Reported Day Boat Opposition.

If all reports prove true the Hudson River will this season have more than the number of day boats necessary to accommodate what bids fair to be the small, comparatively, amount of pleasure travel. We already have the Albany and New York day steamers of the regular line, and on the 15th of the present month report says the Hancox's steamer Schuyler is to be put on that route, to leave New York every morning, with fare at half a dollar through, and twenty-five cents between the landings. She is to have a band of music and is to spread the most luxurious table of any boat on the river—if all we hear is true. Then "they" say the Sleepy Hollow is fitting up to run as far as Poughkeepsie in opposition to the Mary Powell. It would be well for the pockets of the owners of the Sleepy Hollow if they do really intend any such wild scheme to take warning by the fate of the Francis Skiddy when that boat was put on the same route intended by the Sleepy Hollow when the Alida ran on the route now run by the Mary Powell. The Skiddy was put on against the Alida by the Hudson River Railroad Co., and she ran from Wednesday evening until Saturday morning. The first day or two she carried no one but her crew; then she put the fare down, and on that morning when she landed at Newburgh just ahead of the Alida (having left the Poughkeepsie dock when the Alida came through the Elbow), the people on Newburgh dock cast off the Skiddy's lines and informed her Captain if he landed there again they would rotten-egg the boat. On the same morning when she landed, or attempted to, at Cold Spring she was driven away by the people, and on her last trip up, when she and the Alida had their memorable race, the citizens of Newburgh to the number of many hundreds marched to the dock, headed by a band of music, and presented Captain Judson Morey of the Alida with a silver pitcher. Now the Mary Powell has more friends than the Alida had, because more people travel than there did twenty years ago, and we doubt if the owners of the Sleepy Hollow have as much backbone or money as the Hudson River Railroad had in those days, though it wasn't the wealthy corporation it is now, so they had better save what money they have got and keep their boat, not a fast one by any means, off the Mary Powell's route or they will burn their fingers fearfully.

About Finished.

The 4,000 feet of dyke on the northern side of the creek channel are about completed. There yet remains a small amount of stone filling to be put in when the work will be completed. The contractor's superintendent of the work, Mr. C. C. Platt, having completed his labors here leaves for Albany, followed by the good wishes of his many friends, to take charge of some work there.

The D. & H. Canal Excursion.

The pretty little yacht canal boat Dyberry, which had been lying at the dock in Rondout waiting the arrival of the distinguished party of canal officials, started on her trip up the canal on Tuesday morning. About half-past eight the boat, in tow of the Sammy Cornell, cast off her lines, and sailed up to the Island Dock, where President Dickson, who had been examining the company's property, was taken on board. After the tug had returned for a couple of the party who had been left behind, the boats started on their voyage, carrying a merry and lively party. It was not, as was generally supposed, a directors' party, but consisted of the officers of the company, with some invited guests.

The party was composed of Mr. Thomas Dickson, President of the Canal Co., Mr. Coe F. Young, General Manager, and Mr. A. M. Atkinson, Superintendent of the Canal, with Directors Thomas Cornell and Robert Olyphant. There were also on board as invited guests, Mr. Robert A. Hicks, the artist, Judge Howell, of Newark, Mr. Peter Ballentine and Mr. John Ballentine, also of Newark, Mr. John A. Larter, Paymaster, Mr. Thomas W. Cornell and Mr. Horatio Fowks, of The Freeman. There were also about a dozen ladies on board. Very appropriately Capt. Startup had charge of the Dyberry, and the forecastle was filled with Delmonico's provisions, champagne and cooks.

The sail up the creek was a very fine one, the air being exceedingly balmy and the view delightful, and much enjoyed, both by the strangers and those who were more familiar with the locality.

At the upper lock at Eddyville three horses tackled the craft, and gaily trotted off with it toward Honesdale. The party expected to reach Wurtsboro Tuesday evening, and Honesdale on Thursday, and will have one of the pleasantest excursions of the season.

Tows.

The following were yesterday's tows:

Steamers Marshall and Valentine—Barge Relief, Horatio Fowks, boat Sarah McFadden, (light) Lawrence, Merchant, Edward Kearney, Josephine, (light) Henry Hardy. J. H. Lockwood, Robert Mintown, (light) 5 D. & H. Co.'s boats, barge Providence (D. & H. Co.'s) to New York; boat Resolute to Haverstraw; Walter Scott to Grassy Point; schooner Fannie R. Williams from Hyde Park to New York.

Steamer Baltic—Boat No. 3, M. C. Seaman, Diligent, John F. Betz, Wm. Casey, Alligator, Mary of Cohoes, Monowacy, Samoset, J. P. McAndrews, Mary Kirkpatrick, Pile Driver to Albany; No. 1817 to Troy.

The William Cook.

Never, since the day she was launched, did the steamer William Cook appear better than she does to-day. She has been put in thorough order; hull, boilers and machinery, besides being newly upholstered and painted. She is the staunchest and handsomest excursion boat on the Hudson or about the harbor of New York, and the only one which has a license to go around the lightship off Sandy Hook. She was built to run through the lower bay, New York Harbor, on her way to Amboy and is a fine sea boat. She leaves this city today, Wednesday, for New York, where she is engaged for several excursions, the first of which is to take the officers and members of the New York Yacht Club around the lightship of the Hook on Thursday, tickets for which trip are $25, and no one can purchase them save members of the club by which she is chartered. On the 16th she takes the Brooklyn Yacht Club over the same route; on the 17th she takes the Harlem Lodge to Cold Spring Grove on Long Island; on the 18th she takes the Washington Baptist church congregation of New York to Iona Island, and on the 25th the Plymouth Church congregation to Cold Spring Grove. Beside the above mentioned excursions the steamer is engaged for ten others on different dates. Captain George Gage remains in command of the William Cook; Blake Coleman is chief pilot, Mat. Ten Brouck, assistant pilot and Isaac Van Valkenburgh chief engineer—all of them the right men in the right places.

The South Dyke.

During the present session Congress made no appropriation for new work for view and harbor improvements in New York state, but a strong effort is about to be made to get an appropriation of $40,000 for the construction of a dyke along the southern edge of the creek channel at this city. For the successful prosecution of the immense navigating interests at this point it is absolutely necessary that the work should be completed as speedily as possible, for as the deepest water at and near the mouth of the creek is now close to the north dyke, vessels entering the creek are forced to go close to the dyke, which, with a strong flood tide running and a heavy southerly wind blowing, is dangerous work, and in nine cases out of ten the vessel will strike the dyke and damage it as well as herself. Experts say that unless the south side of the channel is dyked, to keep the depth of water on the bar sufficient to permit vessels of ordinary draft of water to cross at all stages of the tide, it will be necessary to keep a dredging machine almost constantly at work on the bar, whereas by the construction of a south dyke the sediment which forms the bar would be carried out into the river by the action of the tide. An evidence of the inconvenience to which passengers are liable and the loss to which owners of vessels are put by the want of sufficient water at the mouth of the creek was afforded on Monday night of last week, when a tow stuck on the bar and blockaded the creek so that two passenger boats were delayed from arriving at their wharves for hours; so Uncle Sam put your hand in your pocket and give us that small sum of $40,000.

A Tragedy Prevented.

A poor, deranged man, who goes by the name of William, attempted to commit suicide on Tuesday. He procured a revolver and ammunition from A. A. Crosby & Co.'s and prepared to join his ancestors beyond "that bourne" in the quickest possible time, but being unacquainted with the management of that dangerous weapon he called upon a friend of his, Jacob Ludwig by name, to ask for instructions in the art of shooting. Ludwig, foreseeing the possible fatal consequences of giving the desired information, thought it more prudent to attempt to prevent the tragedy, and after a long struggle succeeded in getting the revolver and ammunition away from the poor fellow—so both remain alive, Ludwig to receive the plaudits of his admirers for his brave deed and William to live to repent and, we hope, recover his mental equilibrium.

TO CURE A COUGH, to relieve all irritations of the throat, to restore perfect soundness and health to the most delicate organizations of the human frame—the lungs—use Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which is still prepared with the same care in the selecting and compounding of its various ingredients as when it was introduced to the public by Dr. Wistar over forty years ago.

Headache.

How many ladies, young and old, are abject slaves to Headache, Neuralgia, etc., making them unfit to enjoy society, rendering life a burden, and robbing them of beauty, youth and amiability. Briggs' Allevantor is a pleasant and certain cure. Sold by Calvin Markle, Accord.

LARYNGITIS, OR CLERGYMAN'S SORE THROAT, is an inflamation of the Throat and Larynx, caused by over-exertion in speaking or singing, very often becoming chronic, attended with horseness and great difficulty in swallowing, and intense suffering in speaking. It often becomes very serious in cases of long standing, and death has frequently resulted from this disease. Burning, cauterizing and other severe methods of treatment are dangerous. BRIGGS' THROAT AND LUNG HEALER is a soothing an reliable remedy. Sold by R. Deyo, Rondout.

Piles.

The unceasing torture from Internal, Bleeding, External and Itching Piles is fast wearing out thousands who are afflicted, their hope and courage having long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using Briggs' Pile Remedies. Sold by Druggists. Sold by Ike Hasbrouck, High Falls.

Plain and Striped Grenadines, cheap, at JAMES KERLEY'S, Garden street.

PILES may be caused by anything that will irritate the lower bowels, producing a determination of blood to the rectum, as drastic cathartics, from the extensive use of which, in past years, the disease has become very common, habitual constipation, straining at stool, diseases of the liver, much riding on horseback, tight stays, sedentary habits, high living, heating, irritating food, etc. USE BRIGG'S PILE REMEDIES. Sold by S. E. D. Hoornbeck, Wawarsing.

Corns.

Miracles are so common that we are no more surprised at the miraculous, but we are delighted to have our corns disappear and bunions cease to throb with pain, ingrowing nails no longer penetrate the flesh. All these benefits are secured by the use of Briggs' Miraculous Corn and Bunion Remedies. Sold by P. Gray, High Falls.

Piles.

If it were possible to portray the torture endured by millions who are troubled with internal, bleeding, external and itching piles, the picture would not be a pleasant one. The agonies of the cursed cannot be worse, and from these sufferings there seems no escape. But science has demonstrated there is a remedy, safe and reliable. Dr. J. Briggs' Pile Remedies are the climax of medical science. Sold by J. G. Kemble, Stone Ridge.

"Good morning, Susan; how do you stew?" "Very well, I thank you, but ma is almost dead with her bunions." "Well, I declare; I never heard she had such things, but they do say Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are a sartin cure. All the drug stores have got some and say they sell awful fast." Sold by Dr. Lounsbery, Stone Ridge.

Dr. J. Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer is composed of Canada Balsam, Extract of Tamarac, and other Balsam, Gums, Roots, Plants, &c., which are combined in the most scientific manner. It is pleasant and more agreeable to take than any other in use. Old people like it, and babies cry for it. Sold by Van Deusen Bros., Rondout and Kingston.

AS CURATIVE AGENTS, the Balsamic virtues of the Wild Evergreen in the cure of the numerous diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Chest, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, which always, in our ever-varying climate, prevail in a greater or less degree, are well-known; but the power of relieving, healing and curing these diseases is enhanced when, by scientific principles, it is combined with other ingredients of equal value as healing agents. Sold by Van Wagonen & Davis, Stone Ridge.

CITY NOTES.

—J. & J. McCausland expect to launch another steam canal boat from their yard at Burgess' Hook on Thursday.

—On Tuesday 73 canal boats laden with 9,324 tons of coal reached tide water through the Delaware & Hudson Canal.

—The intense rolliness of the water in the creek is caused by the rise of the Lackawaxen, which rose seven feet above low water mark after the storm on Sunday.

—The shower on Tuesday afternoon, accompanied as it was by thunder and lightning, cooled the atmosphere and left the temperature most delightful.

—On Tuesday morning two women landed from the ferry-boat Lark and walking into the ferry-house inquired when "the next hand car left for Kingston?" She finally consented to take a horse car.

—"How's business with you?" asked one down-town merchant of another on Tuesday. "Dull, fearfully dull," was the reply. "The fact is nobody buys anything just now but provisions and whiskey—the bare necessities of life, as it were."

—An innocent youth not much acquainted with naval architecture while inspecting the luxurious cabin appointments of the Dyberry, on Monday, inquired of Captain Startup, "Where's the cellar of this boat, anyhow." The captain didn't drown him, we are told.

—The occasion of the excursion party leaving this city for the trip up the canal on the Dyberry on Tuesday, was made quite a gala day by the chaps in the office. The Professor bent a new coat in honor of the event, the new flag was displayed over the office building, and Rodie nearly broke his neck by looking up to admire the new coat and flag.

—A degree of extravagance has broken out out among the boatmen, and the gay and festive mule's ears are now ornamented with bright blue hoods, from the elongated ends of which flutter tassels of bright color. The flies that ordinarily do a heavy business on the line of the canal are very much demoralized by these little vanities.

—That negro row on Flatbush avenue seems to provoke a great deal of discussion and comment as to who sold the whiskey which was the cause of it. We have been visited by a party of Wiltwyck gentlemen who informed us that the negroes procured the liquor at a notorious resort kept by a German, and popularly known as "the nigger shebang," and furthermore that the proprietor of this place induces the negroes to drink and thus cause disturbance and scandal to the neighborhood.

Excitement Among the Rum Sellers.

There was considerable excitement around the Court House Tuesday afternoon because of a strong movement to indict several Marlborough hotel keepers, who have been selling liquor without license. It will no doubt be made extremely hot for them, as well as for many others in this county.

The Ellenville Scare.

The Ellenville Press very earnestly desires The Freeman to contradict the statement that the Cape Pond dam was unsafe. We have already stated that the dam has been pronounced safe by the D. & H. Canal officers. Our original statement was not that the dam was unsafe, but that the people of Ellenville were considerably worked up on the subject; and this seems perfectly justified by the fact that it has taken a half-dozen or so lengthy communications in the village papers to calm them down, until at last Dominie Bentley has to give the finishing touch.

False Report.

The Newburgh Journal says when the steamer Mary Powell was off New Windsor Monday morning she was observed to stop, but soon went on again, leaving persons on the dock here to surmise the reason for her so doing, if they cared to. The same thing was noticed by parties at the Cornwall Landing, and on her arrival there the report gained currency that a passenger sitting on the rail had lost his balance, fell overboard, and was left to his fate, the steamer being too far away to render him assistance. On receipt of this report at the Journal office, a dispatch was sent to Captain Anderson, which elicited this reply:—

NEW YORK, June 8.—To Newburgh Journal:—No one lost overboard that we know of.
J. H. ANDERSON.

Scene on the Mary Powell.

A day or two ago two prominent Newburgh lawyers, men of standing and acknowledged worth, got on board of the Mary Powell to go to New York. They took seats on the forward deck, enjoying the delightful breeze till Cornwall was reached. Then a sombre dressed, middle-aged lady got on board, who proved to be a tract distributor. Walking up to the two lawyers she handed them a tract entitled "Two Thieves." The lawyer receiving it glanced at the head, showed it to the other then crumpled it up and threw it overboard. When they separated one remarked, "Now if we had been Judge George and Fenton I shouldn't have thought anything about it, but ——— Well, let's go and take a drink!"—Poughkeepsie Eagle.

New Street Cars.

Three of the six new cars for the horse railroad arrived from the car works of John Stephenson in New York, by the steamer Marshall, and the other three by the steamer A. B. Valentine, and were landed on Tuesday afternoon. They will be put in use as soon as the turn-table at the lower end of the track and the curve at the upper end can be got in readiness. They are nicely gotten up, painted a light yellow, and are provided with J. B. S. Sauson's patent fare-boxes, which dispenses with the services of a conductor. They are exactly like the cars on the street railroad in Poughkeepsie, and will be drawn by two horses, thus dispensing with an extra horse up the long hill on Union avenue.

Another Dose of Castoria.

On Tuesday two men, named John Robb and McGee, were in the notorious saloon of Mrs. Castor, on Canal street, and became very much intoxicated and very demonstrative, and finally wound up their orgies by smashing things generally, breaking the windows of the saloon and doing other damage. They then started for the Opera House, Robb indicating his intention of getting a drink there. The Opera House door was locked and Rabb smashed it in, but had only just entered when Ab. Terpenning, the bar keeper, came in and very unceremoniously hustled the bacchanalian Robb down stairs, where they had a pretty lively tussle, in which Ab. gave Robb a pretty thorough shaking up. We were informed that Appleton, the proprietor of the Opera House, after vainly searching for a Constable, started for the Sheriff to secure Robb's arrest, which was effected about nine o'clock last night.

The Storm in Delaware County.

We find the following particulars of damage done by the recent storm in the Stamford Mirror of the 9th inst.:

Last Sunday night we were visited by a very severe thunder and rain storm, accompanied by plenty of wind and hail, the equal of which has not been known in many years. The rain fell in torrents, flooding roads and fields, doing great damage. In this village the dam of Tanner's plaster mill was badly injured and several bridges carried off. In Harpersfield nearly all the bridges were destroyed, as also between Stamford and Hobart. At Hobart the river was some two feet higher than ever known before. The high wall near Sharpe's store was washed away, as also a large quantity of hoops and staves of W. H. Beardsley. Considerable damage was done to Robinson's foundry, John G. Hanford's farm, C. A. Foote's farm, etc.

The railroad bridge near Frisbee's was injured so that the express train was detained two hours. The mail came up yesterday on a hand-car.

Monday morning's mail stage for Oneonta made out to reach S. H. Stevens' and had to return.

The barn of Mike Gray of South Gilboa was struck by lightning and one end badly damaged.

Lightning paid its regards to a hay barn of Mr. George Grant, in the township, by knocking out both ends.

At Hobart the destruction has been quite large. W. H. Beardsley, W. M. Miller and John Robinson lose largely. The water was never known to be as high. The shop of W. S. Foote had eight inches of water above the floor. The breaking away of Tanner's dam probably was one cause of such a sudden flood.

At Moresville the water was knee-deep in front of the hotel. Gardens and fences were damaged. Considerable damage was done at Gleason's—bridge dug out.

Mr. Rose, residing about three miles from Gilboa, had a $200 horse killed by lightning on Sunday afternoon.

The barn of Rudolph Hamma, in Roxbury, was struck by lightning and burned. It contained about two tons of hay.

Every bridge between Gilboa and Jefferson is reported washed away.

Three mills were carried off on the Conesville stream.

Gales Clark of Conesville had his house demolished and was drowned in an apple tree—his wife was saved.

Clay Hill is as badly damaged as it was four years ago last October.

On the Plattekill, Bliss' grist mill dam was taken off; De Silva saw mill totally carried away; also, the old Street mill.

At Prattsville it is reported that a number of buildings were carried away by the high water, among them Mr. Searles' building. A Searles girl was drowned. L. K. Howard's premises were torn to pieces. Becker's barns, at the lower end of the village, were carried off by the flood from Huntersfield Creek. The water was four feet higher than it was four years ago. The bridge on the Lexington road, two miles above Big Rock, was carried off, and report has it that all the bridges from the top of the mountain to Big Rock have been swept away.

The course of the storm seems to have been from Oneonta, via Stamford and Prattsville, to Windham, and from three to four miles wide.

COUNTY COURT AND COURT OF SESSIONS.

Judge William Lawton, Presiding.

On Tuesday morning the calendar was run down to No. 121 in short order, and some fifty cases were passed. In No. 35 the complaint was dismissed. No. 74, John W. Lasher and Henry W. Turck agst. Henry Crouse, was tried. There was no appearance on the part of the defendant. The action was brought for the purchase price on the sale of a horse by plaintiffs to defendant, July 16th, 1872, for $30. Judgment was ordered for the plaintiffs. The attorneys were F. L. Westbrook for plaintiffs and J. F. Bookstaver for defendant.

No. 121, John Hutton, Jr., agst. Matilda E. Schepmoes, was then tried. The attorneys are G. R. Adams for the plaintiff and A. J. Mellon for the defendant. The plaintiff claims he sold a house and lot in Flatbush to defendant the 29th of March, 1871, for $1,000. The purchase price had been paid all but $300, with $92 interest, for which amount the plaintiff demands judgment. The defendant claims that she cannot read or write, and that plaintiff procured the signing of the contract by fraud. The Judge ordered a verdict for plaintiff.

The next case tried was No. 44, John P. Brown agst. Baltchazzar Schwalbach. The attorneys were D. W. Sparling for plaintiff and E. A. Durham for defendant. This is an action for assault and battery. The defendant claims that on the 10th of last September he was sitting in the bar-room at Staudacher's, in the lower part of the city, when Schwalbach came in and without a word of warning struck him on the nose, making it bleed, for which he claims damage to the amount of $500. The jury rendered a verdict of $50 for the plaintiff.

No. 109, Wendell Wright vs. Henry Delamater and Edward B. Meyer, was then tried. The attorneys are F. L. Westbook for plaintiff, Henry Griffith for defendants, A. T. Clearwater of counselfor defendants. The plaintiff claims that on the 10th of May, 1871, plaintiff entered into a contract with defendants to purchase the factory and other property in Shandaken then owned by defendants and used to manufacture spring bottoms for beds. Plaintiff was to pay them net cost for said property at a certain day, when defendants were to furnish bills of the net value of said property, and swear to the same. On the day named defendants did not furnish the vouchers, but said they would furnish them in a few days. Plaintiff then paid the amount, but the vouchers were never furnished and defendants finally refused to furnish them. Plaintiff further claims the defendants had overcharged him in the sum of $200 above the actual cost or value of the property. The defendants claim the accounts are all correct, and that they furnished all the vouchers of such accounts. They did not swear to such vouchers because plaintiff said he did not require it.

The court adjourned before this case was finished, until morning.

A Supposed Stolen Horse.

A stranger arrived at Vandemark's Hotel in Phoenicia on Monday evening last, leading a sorrel mare, and said he was traveling on foot above Mount Pleasant when the animal he was leading passed him on the road, running away with a buggy wagon attached to it. Near James Simpson's, not far from Phoenicia, he overtook the horse and buggy, the horse having fallen and being entangled in the harness it could not rise until he assisted it, which he did, and forthwith brought it to the first hotel that he could find, which was Vandemark's. The animal was stabled and taken care of while the man went to bed, and on Tuesday morning he said he would go for the buggy and draw it to the hotel. He left and has failed to return, and our informant, who came from Phoenicia on Tuesday, says it is the prevailing opinion of the people in that place that the stranger has stolen the animal from some person's barn, and becoming frightened at what he had done concocted the above story to get the mare in the possession of some one else. No buggy has been found in the neighborhood.

—Last year there were over 2,200 bills introduced in each branch of the Legislature—this year there were less than 500 in the House and less than 400 in the Senate. This is owing to the good effect of the new Constitution.—Honesdale Citizen.

SAUGERTIES.

—Boots Van Steenburgh is getting to be a public nuisance.

—The creeks are falling about as rapidly as they rose. No further damage was done that we have heard of.

—"Mine" says hail-stones fell over "there" Sunday night as large as croquet balls. Draw it mildly, "Mine;" but doesn't that sound just like an insurance agent?

—Mr. Turck, our accommodating livery man, says he had two applicants for one horse rigs, by mountaineers, for the Fourth of July. He thinks they are bound to be on time.

—Doctors Henry Wygant & Son are now established in their new and handsome office in Whitaker's building, where they are prepared to fill cavities, put in new and reliable or extract refractory teeth in the very best manner.

—Snyder's steam flag-ship still wends her weary way between this place and Tivoli. The Commodore has returned from the cares and wrangles of public life—has cast aside the famous steel-pen coat, yellow necktie, and lavender kids, to don his navy blue and enjoy in peace and prosperity the honors which honesty, integrity and sobriety always bring in their train. The next in command is our happy old friend Charlie, the engineer, whose manipulations upon the starting-bar are unequaled, and whose ability to scoop in the little quarters or cut the "pigeon wing" none dare dispute. The man at the helm is the oldest in Snyder's service; nothing ruffles the calm which mantles his brow; troubles glide from his mind like the slippery eel from the hand of the experienced fisherman, unless it is an occasional attack of the Jersey fever—then he invests in a paper collar, dyes his moustache, airs his Sunday-go-to-meetings and takes the first train down for the land of the mosquito and the home of his "Luciuda."

—Captain Wm. Milligan, commonly known here as "Yankee Bill," of the canal boat Conscript, was sitting in the cabin of his craft last Sunday evening, reading Saturday's Freeman and congratulating himself on being in such a safe harbor during such a severe storm, when bang! bang! bang! down the stove-pipe came a lot of stones. Supposing it was a lot of dockrats up to the deviltry, he yelled out, "Now, I know ivery mother's son of yees, and if yees don't sthop I'll have ivery one of yees up before Sam?" But the fear of being brought before that august personage had, singularly enough, no effect on this element. The few had increased to a shower on the cabin, and down the stove-pipe they came. The captain could stand it no longer; forbearance had ceased to be a virtue. Catching up a three-pronged stool and an "illegantly" framed picture of the Air Line's crew in the "ghost scene," he sallied forth with vengeance in one eye and his heart in the sole of his boots, only to be greeted with a shower of hail stones, from which he retired completely nonplused.

VICINITY.

—Delhi had 14 feet 5 inches of snow last winter.

—Binghamton has sold its stock in the Albany & Susquehanna Railroad for $43,580.

—Middletown is happy because Camilla Urso is coming there next fall.

—Temperance informers are at work in Troy on Sundays.

—D. C. Sharpe will commence running his four horse coaches between Moresville and Husonville on Tuesday.

—The Erie laborers are anxiously looking for the coming of the paymaster. He is two months behind time.

—The steam canal boat City of Bufalo, built in this city by J. & J. McCausland, is now receiving its engine and boiler at the Fishkill Landing Machine Works.

—There are 1,029 boats freighting coal on the Delaware & Hudson Canal, giving employment to 3,000 men and boys and 2,000 horses and mules.

—A merchant doing business not a hundred miles from Liberty has a placard in his show window inscribed, "——— ——— owes this store $——— for tea, coffee, rice and farming utensils, and won't pay.

—There are now lading at the Newburgh wharves an English ship and a Norwegian bark—and that city now desires to be made a port of entry and have the palatial structure on its magnificent steamboat dock turned into a Custom House.

—The Ellenville Journal learns that the farmer, Mr. Rosencrans, who signalled a train recently at Sandburgh, where a rock had rolled upon the track, has received $200 from the company as a reward for his services. The reward is well deserved, for the man saved the company from the loss of many thousand dollars, besides a great many lives.

Another Reported Day Boat Opposition.

If all reports prove true the Hudson River will this season have more than the number of day boats necessary to accommodate what bids fair to be the small, comparatively, amount of pleasure travel. We already have the Albany and New York day steamers of the regular line, and on the 15th of the present month report says the Hancox's steamer Schuyler is to be put on that route, to leave New York every morning, with fare at half a dollar through, and twenty-five cents between the landings. She is to have a band of music and is to spread the most luxurious table of any boat on the river—if all we hear is true. Then "they" say the Sleepy Hollow is fitting up to run as far as Poughkeepsie in opposition to the Mary Powell. It would be well for the pockets of the owners of the Sleepy Hollow if they do really intend any such wild scheme to take warning by the fate of the Francis Skiddy when that boat was put on the same route intended by the Sleepy Hollow when the Alida ran on the route now run by the Mary Powell. The Skiddy was put on against the Alida by the Hudson River Railroad Co., and she ran from Wednesday evening until Saturday morning. The first day or two she carried no one but her crew; then she put the fare down, and on that morning when she landed at Newburgh just ahead of the Alida (having left the Poughkeepsie dock when the Alida came through the Elbow), the people on Newburgh dock cast off the Skiddy's lines and informed her Captain if he landed there again they would rotten-egg the boat. On the same morning when she landed, or attempted to, at Cold Spring she was driven away by the people, and on her last trip up, when she and the Alida had their memorable race, the citizens of Newburgh to the number of many hundreds marched to the dock, headed by a band of music, and presented Captain Judson Morey of the Alida with a silver pitcher. Now the Mary Powell has more friends than the Alida had, because more people travel than there did twenty years ago, and we doubt if the owners of the Sleepy Hollow have as much backbone or money as the Hudson River Railroad had in those days, though it wasn't the wealthy corporation it now is, so they had better save what money they have got and keep their boat, not a fast one by any means, off the Mary Powell's route or they will burn their fingers fearfully.

About Finished.

The 4,000 feet of dyke on the northern side of the creek channel are about completed. There yet remains a small amount of stone filling to be put in when the work will be completed. The contractor's superintendent of the work, Mr. C. C. Platt, having completed his labors here leaves for Albany, followed by the good wishes of his many friends, to take charge of some work there.

The D. & H. Canal Excursion.

The pretty little yacht canal boat Dyberry, which had been lying at the dock in Rondout waiting the arrival of the distinguished party of canal officials, started on her trip up the canal on Tuesday morning. About half-past eight the boat, in tow of the Sammy Cornell, cast off her lines, and sailed up to the Island Dock, where President Dickson, who had been examining the company's property, was taken on board. After the tug had returned for a couple of the party who had been left behind, the boats started on their voyage, carrying a merry and lively party. It was not, as was generally supposed, a directors' party, but consisted of the officers of the company, with some invited guests.

The party was composed of Mr. Thomas Dickson, President of the Canal Co., Mr. Coe F. Young, General Manager, and Mr. A. M. Atkinson, Superintendent of the Canal, with Directors Thomas Cornell and Robert Olyphant. There were also on board as invited guests, Mr. Robert A. Hicks, the artist, Judge Howell, of Newark, Mr. Peter Ballentine and Mr. John Ballentine, also of Newark, Mr. John A. Larter, Paymaster, Mr. Thomas W. Cornell and Mr. Horatio Fowks, of The Freeman. There were also about a dozen ladies on board. Very appropriately Capt. Startup had charge of the Dyberry, and the forecastle was filled with Delmonico's provisions, champagne and cooks.

The sail up the creek was a very fine one, the air being exceedingly balmy and the view delightful, and much enjoyed, both by the strangers and those who were more familiar with the locality.

At the upper lock at Eddyville three horses tackled the craft, and gaily trotted off with it toward Honesdale. The party expected to reach Wurtsboro Tuesday evening, and Honesdale on Thursday, and will have one of the pleasantest excursions of the season.

Tows.

The following were yesterday's tows:

Steamers Marshall and Valentine—Barge Relief, Horatio Fowks, boat Sarah McFadden, (light) Lawrence, Merchant, Edward Kearney, Josephine, (light) Henry Hardy. J. H. Lockwood, Robert Mintown, (light) 5 D. & H. Co.'s boats, barge Providence (D. & H. Co.'s) to New York; boat Resolute to Haverstraw; Walter Scott to Grassy Point; schooner Fannie R. Williams from Hyde Park to New York.

Steamer Baltic—Boat No. 3, M. C. Seaman, Diligent, John F. Betz, Wm. Casey, Alligator, Mary of Cohoes, Monoeacy, Samoset, J. P. McAndrews, Mary Kirkpatrick, Pile Driver to Albany; No. 1817 to Troy.

The William Cook.

Never, since the day she was launched, did the steamer William Cook appear better than she does to-day. She has been put in thorough order; hull, boilers and machinery, besides being newly upholstered and painted. She is the staunchest and handsomest excursion boat on the Hudson or about the harbor of New York, and the only one which has a license to go around the lightship off Sandy Hook. She was built to run through the lower bay, New York Harbor, on her way to Amboy and is a fine sea boat. She leaves this city today, Wednesday, for New York, where she is engaged for several excursions, the first of which is to take the officers and members of the New York Yacht Club around the lightship of the Hook on Thursday, tickets for which trip are $25, and no one can purchase them save members of the club by which she is chartered. On the 16th she takes the Brooklyn Yacht Club over the same route; on the 17th she takes the Harlem Lodge to Cold Spring Grove on Long Island; on the 18th she takes the Washington Baptist church congregation of New York to Iona Island, and on the 25th the Plymouth Church congregation to Cold Spring Grove. Beside the above mentioned excursions the steamer is engaged for ten others on different dates. Captain George Gage remains in command of the William Cook; Blake Coleman is chief pilot, Mat. Ten Brouck, assistant pilot and Isaac Van Valkenburgh chief engineer—all of them the right men in the right places.

The South Dyke.

During the present session Congress made no appropriation for new work for view and harbor improvements in New York state, but a strong effort is about to be made to get an appropriation of $40,000 for the construction of a dyke along the southern edge of the creek channel at this city. For the successful prosecution of the immense navigating interests at this point it is absolutely necessary that the work should be completed as speedily as possible, for as the deepest water at and near the mouth of the creek is now close to the north dyke, vessels entering the creek are forced to go close to the dyke, which, with a strong flood tide running and a heavy southerly wind blowing, is dangerous work, and in nine cases out of ten the vessel will strike the dyke and damage it as well as herself. Experts say that unless the south side of the channel is dyked, to keep the depth of water on the bar sufficient to permit vessels of ordinary draft of water to cross at all stages of the tide, it will be necessary to keep a dredging machine almost constantly at work on the bar, whereas by the construction of a south dyke the sediment which forms the bar would be carried out into the river by the action of the tide. An evidence of the inconvenience to which passengers are liable and the loss to which owners of vessels are put by the want of sufficient water at the mouth of the creek was afforded on Monday night of last week, when a tow stuck on the bar and blockaded the creek so that two passenger boats were delayed from arriving at their wharves for hours; so Uncle Sam put your hand in your pocket and give us that small sum of $40,000.

A Tragedy Prevented.

A poor, deranged man, who goes by the name of William, attempted to commit suicide on Tuesday. He procured a revolver and ammunition from A. A. Crosby & Co.'s and prepared to join his ancestors beyond "that bourne" in the quickest possible time, but being unacquainted with the management of that dangerous weapon he called upon a friend of his, Jacob Ludwig by name, to ask for instructions in the art of shooting. Ludwig, foreseeing the possible fatal consequences of giving the desired information, thought it more prudent to attempt to prevent the tragedy, and after a long struggle succeeded in getting the revolver and ammunition away from the poor fellow—so both remain alive, Ludwig to receive the plaudits of his admirers for his brave deed and William to live to repent and, we hope, recover his mental equilibrium.

TO CURE A COUGH, to relieve all irritations of the throat, to restore perfect soundness and health to the most delicate organizations of the human frame—the lungs—use Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which is still prepared with the same care in the selecting and compounding of its various ingredients as when it was introduced to the public by Dr. Wistar over forty years ago.

Headache.

How many ladies, young and old, are abject slaves to Headache, Neuralgia, etc., making them unfit to enjoy society, rendering life a burden, and robbing them of beauty, youth and amiability. Briggs' Allevantor is a pleasant and certain cure. Sold by Calvin Markle, Accord.

LARYNGITIS, OR CLERGYMAN'S SORE THROAT, is an inflamation of the Throat and Larynx, caused by over-exertion in speaking or singing, very often becoming chronic, attended with hoarseness and great difficulty in swallowing, and intense suffering in speaking. It often becomes very serious in cases of long standing, and death has frequently resulted from this disease. Burning, cauterizing and other severe methods of treatment are dangerous. BRIGGS' THROAT AND LUNG HEALER is a soothing an reliable remedy. Sold by R. Deyo, Rondout.

Piles.

The unceasing torture from Internal, Bleeding, External and Itching Piles is fast wearing out thousands who are afflicted, their hope and courage having long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using Briggs' Pile Remedies. Sold by Druggists. Sold by Ike Hasbrouck, High Falls.

Plain and Striped Grenadines, cheap, at JAMES KERLEY'S, Garden street.

PILES may be caused by anything that will irritate the lower bowels, producing a determination of blood to the rectum, as drastic cathartics, from the extensive use of which, in past years, the disease has become very common, habitual constipation, straining at stool, diseases of the liver, much riding on horseback, tight stays, sedentary habits, high living, heating, irritating food, etc. USE BRIGG'S PILE REMEDIES. Sold by S. E. D. Hoornbeck, Wawarsing.

Corns.

Miracles are so common that we are no more surprised at the miraculous, but we are delighted to have our corns disappear and bunions cease to throb with pain, ingrowing nails no longer penetrate the flesh. All these benefits are secured by the use of Briggs' Miraculous Corn and Bunion Remedies. Sold by P. Gray, High Falls.

Piles.

If it were possible to portray the torture endured by millions who are troubled with internal, bleeding, external and itching piles, the picture would not be a pleasant one. The agonies of the cursed cannot be worse, and from these sufferings there seems no escape. But science has demonstrated there is a remedy, safe and reliable. Dr. J. Briggs' Pile Remedies are the climax of medical science. Sold by J. G. Kemble, Stone Ridge.

"Good morning, Susan; how do you dew?" "Very well, I thank you, but one is almost dead with her bunions." "Well, I declare; I never heard she had such things, but they do say Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are a sartin cure. All the drug stores have got some and say they sell awful fast." Sold by Dr. Lounsbery, Stone Ridge.

Dr. J. Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer is composed of Canada Balsam, Extract of Tamarac, and other Balsam, Gums, Roots, Plants, &c., which are combined in the most scientific manner. It is pleasant and more agreeable to take than any other in use. Old people like it, and babies cry for it. Sold by Van Deusen Bros., Rondout and Kingston.

AS CURATIVE AGENTS, the Balsamic virtues of the Wild Evergreen in the cure of the numerous diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Chest, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, which always, in our ever-varying climate, prevail in a greater or less degree, are well-known; but the power of relieving, healing and curing these diseases is enhanced when, by scientific principles, it is combined with other ingredients of equal value as healing agents. Sold by Van Wagonen & Davis, Stone Ridge.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM — ALCOHOL — PURELY — DR. WALKER'S — CALIFORNIA — EUREKA

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

The direct and popular Route from all parts of ORANGE and ULSTER Counties to NEW YORK CITY.

And the great through route to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Chicago, Cincinnati, and all points WEST.

Rondout, May 1st, 1874.

The attention of the public is respectfully invited to our Spring opening of Carpets, Dress Fabrics, General Dry Goods and Housekeeping Articles, and we confidently believe that a fair inspection will demonstrate our Stock to be second to none in this city.

These goods are of recent purchase and our best judgment has been exerted in selection of styles, varieties and adaptation to the needs of this vicinity.

Every advantage to be gained from buying for Cash, and in discounts and differences on time bills, has been realized by us on these invoices, and as the old axiom "Goods well bought are half sold" is still a truism, we count on an active and satisfactory trade.

The practice of our firm in regard to marking profits is generally known, but we reiterate it here, as aiming for a large trade at small advances and with quick returns, rather than the old style of full profits, moderate sales, extended credits, and old goods held for original prices.

In the line of Carpets, we deem ourselves specially fortunate in having made almost an entire clearance at our annual stock taking (March 1st), and thus are not encumbered with old patterns, or hampered by necessity of sale of last year's goods at actual loss, but can offer our friends entirely fresh goods at price now current. These goods are not bought in lots at few places, but culled from every leading stock in New York City that holds out an attraction or makes an extra inducement on price; and for variety, desirableness and cheapness, they are unexcelled in this city.

Our entire stock on main floor is unusually complete and attractive, and it will afford us pleasure to show you these Goods at your earliest convenience.

VINEGAR BITTERS

VEGETABLE — FREE FROM ALCOHOL — PURELY — DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA — EUREKA — VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuge, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

The direct and popular Route from all parts of ORANGE and ULSTER Counties to NEW YORK CITY.

And the great through route to Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Chicago, Cincinnati, and all points WEST.

Rondout, May 1st, 1874.

The attention of the public is respectfully invited to our Spring opening of Carpets, Dress Fabrics, General Dry Goods and Housekeeping Articles, and we confidently believe that a fair inspection will demonstrate our Stock to be second to none in this city.

These goods are of recent purchase and our best judgment has been exerted in selection of styles, varieties and adaptation to the needs of this vicinity.

Every advantage to be gained from buying for Cash, and in discounts and differences on time bills, has been realized by us on these invoices, and as the old axiom "Goods well bought are half sold" is still a truism, we count on an active and satisfactory trade.

The practice of our firm in regard to marking profits is generally known, but we reiterate it here, as aiming for a large trade at small advances and with quick returns, rather than the old style of full profits, moderate sales, extended credits, and old goods held for original prices.

In the line of Carpets, we deem ourselves specially fortunate in having made almost an entire clearance at our annual stock taking (March 1st), and thus are not encumbered with old patterns, or hampered by necessity of sale of last year's goods at actual loss, but can offer our friends entirely fresh goods at prices now current. These goods are not bought in lots at few places, but culled from every leading stock in New York City that holds out an attraction or makes an extra inducement on price; and for variety, desirableness and cheapness, they are unexcelled in this city.

Our entire stock on main floor is unusually complete and attractive, and it will afford us pleasure to show you these Goods at your earliest convenience.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE CENTENNIAL GAZETTEER OF THE UNITED STATES.

No book has ever been published of such universal interest to the American people. It appeals to no particular class alone, but to all classes; to men and women of all professions, creeds, occupations and political opinions—to Farmers, Lawyers, Business Men, Mechanics, Physicians, Politicians, Teachers, Students, Manufacturers, Salesmen, men of learning and men who can only read, to old and young. All want it as a book of constant reference, and to preserve for their children and children's children as the only complete and reliable work, showing the gigantic results of THE FIRST ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF THE GREATEST REPUBLIC THE WORLD EVER SAW. It is not a luxury but a necessity to every well-informed American citizen. Agents make $100 to $300 per month. Send for circular. ZIEGLER & McCURDY, Philadelphia, Pa. May 12w4
